

Transit Freeway Route Would Cost $10 Million — Levine

An engineer for the Tudor Engineering Company estimated Wednesday that it would cost an additional $10 million for the Bay Area Rapid Transit to use the freeway route from Lafayette to Walnut Creek instead of the proposed Olympic Boulevard.

Despite the high extra cost, Bert Levine told directors of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce, the freeway routing between the two communities has not been rejected by Tudor officials.

THE TUDOR COMPANY is conducting routing studies for the five-county transit district, and has recommended that the route cut a diagonal through Lafayette's business district and connect with the proposed Olympic Boulevard county thoroughfare.

There has been some controversy concerning this proposed routing, and directors of the Lafayette Improvement Association, on two separate occasions, have expressed their opposition to the plan.

After hearing Levine elaborate on the pros and cons of the route at their regular monthly luncheon meeting, chamber directors unanimously adopted a resolution "urging the district to use the freeway route."

REPEATEDLY acknowledging that "The Olympic Boulevard route is in the best interests of Contra Costa County as a whole," Levine admitted his $10 million figure is only a guess because detailed cost studies on the freeway route are just in the process of being prepared.

The engineer explained that the major problem involved in the freeway route would be its passage at the point of the proposed Shepherd Canyon Freeway interchange, in the vicinity of Pleasant Hill Road.

This, he said, "would pose an engineering problem which is not incapable of being solved, but would be fantastically expensive."

ALTHOUGH THE transit district is not insensitive to the wishes of the community, Levine stated, "it would take a very strong community stand to convince the district to use a route which is so much more expensive."

He noted it is unknown where the additional funds would come from, even if the freeway route was selected.

Lafayette's accountant Stanford White, a chamber director and the community's 1959 Man of the Year, charged at the conclusion of the talk:

"A RAILROAD going through the sky at this particular point would be the ruin of Lafayette. That's all we need!" Chamber President Lou Re-petto said, meanwhile. "The district must consider the human element. Regardless of what else you may say, this route along the proposed Olympic Boulevard will make the residential area there something less than what it is today."

Levine answered that "whatever route we use there will be people involved and those who are adversely affected will oppose the plan."

HE DECLARED that Ken Forsman, president of the improvement group and one of the most vocal of the plan's opponents to date, is definitely biased because he lives along the Olympic Boulevard route.

According to Levine, people throughout the five-county district have repeatedly stated, "Rapid transit is fine as long as it is in somebody else's backyard."

IT WAS A HAPPY time this week when Governor Pat Brown presented The Sun with two statewide newspaper awards. Receiving the award for first place in Newspaper Promotion and Public Relations is Sun Publisher and Editor Herman Silverman, right, while Associate Editor Dick Osborne receives the second place award for Outstanding Community Service. The Sun has been awarded first or second place in Outstanding Community Service in 1951, 1953, 1957 and last year... more times than any other daily or weekly newspaper in the state in the past 10 years. The Sun has won an award in Newspaper Promotion and Public Relations, both nationally and weekly, for the past three years.

Fluoridation Question Still Looks for Answer

The question of whether or not information concerning fluoridation is propaganda remained unanswered this week in Contra Costa County.

Late last week the district attorney's office took no sides in the matters in answer to a letter from the Lafayette School District requesting an opinion. Deputy District Attorney Charles Hemmings noted simply that the matter is "a moot question" because the school board had already acted on the fluoridation question.

BUT EARLIER, on February 8, Dr. Floyd Marchus, county superintendent of schools, defined fluoridation "election materials" as propaganda and unfit for student distribution, in compliance with a section of the State Education Code.

The same night the Lafayette School District board of trustees, without waiting for the district attorney's ruling, prohibited the Lafayette Health Council, a school supported group, from distributing fluoridation printed matter via the district's students.

W. B. Ellis, superintendent of Lafayette schools, admitted yesterday he was "partly to blame" for Hemmings' failure to deliver an opinion on fluoridation material.

ELLIS SAID HE called the district attorney's office following the school board's action and stated that even if the district attorney ruled that fluoridation information could be distributed by students, he would not permit it because the school board had already acted.

The Lafayette superintendent said he does not know whether Hemmings' answer implies that the district attorney's office feels fluoridation information should not be classified as propaganda.

He explained that Hemmings and District Attorney John Nejedly indicated they would refer the matter to the state attorney general's office if a school district "pushed the question."

DR. MARCHUS, meanwhile, pointed out that his news release of February 8 only concerned fluoridation "election materials," and did not concern factual scientific data about fluoridation as a method of reducing tooth decay.

He said it is only when fluoridation is discussed in relation to the East Bay Municipal Utility District's June election issue that the information "becomes propaganda."

"My release was only intended to alert the school people to be sure of their ground in the matter," Dr. Marchus declared, adding, "our office is always giving opinions to school districts within the county."

THE RESPONSIBILITY of the county schools' office is discredited, he explained, when attention is called to a law.

"There is a difference between scientific data and materials urging 'yes' votes. If the schools can distribute objective materials and refrain from electioneering, it is good. It is not my intention that the schools should be divorced from life," the county superintendent said.

Dr. Marchus reported that he will not ask the district attorney for a further ruling, but said was asked to forward copies of his "propaganda" release to the district attorney's office and to Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer.

Chestnut, Pine Trees Planted Along Bryant Way

Spring was in the air last Saturday when the Orinda Beautification Committee planted 10 trees along Bryant Way. (This is the frontage road behind the "Tree in the Circle.")

Under the direction of President John Miller, five members of the Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce were on the spot at the early hour of 9 o'clock to dig 100 x 100 holes for the 10 trees.

AND THE JAYCEES only gave up when they hit rock bottom. In this case, being rock bottom indeed, for they hit the old "Crossroad" highway that everybody had forgotten about.

Doing the digging were Harry Fledderman, John Schlichtman, Eric Neilsen, Gleen Chittenden and Frank Peale. Committee members working included Bob Washmirth, Neil Porter, John Miller and the Mesdames Fred Rust, Basil Winslow and Paul Pollack.

The seven pink flowering chestnuts (Aesculus carnea Brioti) that were planted will add spring color to the town in future years. Three pine trees (Bishops) were also planted and will be added to on another work day.

THE CHESTNUT trees for Bryant Way were planned early in the civic landscaping program at the suggestion of William Penn Mott. "We want something different and spectacular for Orinda," he said then.

Money to purchase the trees was raised by the committee last May when they sponsored a play of the Dramateurs. Bob Washmirth of the Moraga Valley Nursery has been caring for the trees since then.

The committee also worked on Saturday to dress up the PG&E tower at the entrance to Orinda. Cotoneasters (parneyii) were planted along one side of the tower. More will be added later to the Camino Pablo side.

CRUSHED RED ROCK to control the weeds underneath the tower has been recommended to the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. by the committee.

So much litter was found scattered in this area that the committee piled it up in cartons and the Orinda Disposal Service carted it away as a community

Certain Areas to Feel 10% Land Assessment Rise

The announced 10 per cent increase in land assessment for the tax year 1960-61 will not affect Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill, since reappraisal has already taken place in those areas, but it will affect Lafayette and Orinda.

However, the increase will mean only a slight increase in actual taxes anywhere, and eventually as assessment roll goes up, the tax rate should go down, said Assistant Assessor Fred Wanaka.

The assessment increase will not affect the present 1959-60 taxes, in any event. The second and last installment for this year is due April 10. The first installment on next year's taxes is not due until next December.

THE COUNTY'S major reappraisal program has been completed in the Mt. Diablo Unified School District, including Pleasant Hill and Concord. And the Walnut Creek reappraisal will be complete in time for 1960-61, thereby exempting those areas from the blanket increase in land assessments, said Wanaka.

But areas south of Walnut Creek, including Alamo and San Ramon will be affected, also Lafayette and Orinda.

Assessment of land improvements will not be increased.

The hike is necessary to bring the county's areas not reappraised into line with the statewide assessment averages set by the State Board of Equalization.

A FEW YEARS ago, the state board ordered a blanket 35 per cent assessment hike for all Contra Costa property which is assessed by the county—to bring the land assessment up to 25 per cent of its market value, as required by state law.

County's Illegal Civil Defense Drills Now Legal

"Off-campus" civil defense drills for elementary school children became respectable and law-abiding in Contra Costa County, last week.

They had been unlawful in the county since August, last year, when Deputy District Attorney Charles Hemmings so interpreted Section 17, Title 5, of the State Education Code.

The section said a school may hold a civil defense drill in lieu of a fire drill, but stipulated the drill "... shall take place entirely within the grounds of a school."

ON URGING of several county and civil defense authorities from this area, the State Board of Education February 17 amended the clause to allow the pupils to walk to their homes, or be transported by vehicles to a loading area within a reasonable distance of their schools.

William Ward, former county civil defense coordinator and William Flynn, former Walnut Creek School District, CD coordinator, attempted to get revision of the clause in 1957 and 1958, but they were not successful.

The board's meeting last week was attended by Flynn, John Mott of Richmond, Mrs. Eleanor Daly of the County CD offices, Will Perry, County CD director, and Ward Cockerton, County School Administrators C.D. coordinator.

Assistance in preparing information for presentation to the state board was given by Hemmings and George Hogan, state deputy superintendent of public instruction.

Flynn said, "The success of the program will be due to the positive action of the state board with the new civil defense legislation."

"With the new code regulation, the entire county will be better able to handle emergencies requiring the removal of children from school premises to their homes."

Flynn emphasized this is permissive legislation, allowing, but not requiring a school district to substitute a CD drill for a fire drill.

He said earlier that without an actual walk-home drill, basic planning suffers, since there is a human tendency for school leaders to give priority to those plans which actually must be put into effect.

IN A LETTER to Hogan, Cockerton earlier said in part, "... for several years walk-home drills have taken place to acquaint teachers and children to react automatically to a need for riding and school and its grounds of people in case of dire need or emergency."

"... We are sure it was not the intent of any group to deny a school official the right to have children and teachers practice good safety rules..."

Four PH Boys Nabbed Near High School

Mid-county schools continued to be targets of burglars over the weekend.

However, sheriff's investigators suspect that the latest break-ins were perpetrated by others than those who have been committing a recent series of school thefts.

Four Pleasant Hill boys, ranging in age from 11 to 15, were picked up by deputies near Pleasant Hill High School shortly after basketballs, bows and arrows had been stolen from the school. The boys, who had keys to the school in their possession, were cited to appear before juvenile authorities.

Late Friday night or early Saturday morning the Pine Grove Intermediate school, Orinda, was entered. Three typewriters—one of them an IBM machine—and a printing calculator were stolen. The equipment was worth $1148, according to school authorities.

Would-be heisters pried open a door at St. Mary's College, Moraga, early Friday morning, ransacked the office but apparently took nothing.

Concord Realtors Vote to Merge With Local Unit

The Concord Real Estate Board, formed in 1948, this week voted to merge with the Contra Costa Real Estate Board.

The action was taken after several weeks of discussion concerning the merits of the merger and the readjustments necessary, according to Concord observers.

David Rockwell is chairman of the Concord board committee which guided the discussions. Paul Burton is Concord board president.

THE MATTER must still be taken up formally by the Contra Costa Real Estate Board directors and the general membership. As was the case with the Concord board, a two-thirds vote is necessary for ratification. However, little opposition is anticipated.

Purpose of the merger is to provide one, coordinated multiple listing service for the entire area from the tunnel to Pittsburg, providing better service for sellers and seekers of homes. The Contra Costa board's MLS service has been developed to a smooth-functioning system.

The Concord board has some 28 brokers and about 80 salesmen, compared to more than 100 brokers and 400 salesmen on the Contra Costa Board.

THE CONTRA Costa Board merger committee has Charles Bailey, chairman; A. J. Johnson (board president), Bill Hayward, Al Ingalls, Bill Anderson, Lewis Reark and Marvin Ross.

If the merger is ratified by both sides, the Concord Realtors will have the use of the new real estate board building on Locust Street, Walnut Creek, the services of Executive Manager Wayne Bailey, and the procedures developed through the years for which is considered throughout the state as a top-flight organization.

There are three other real estate boards in the county—East Contra Costa Board, serving Antioch and Pittsburg, West Contra Costa Board serving Richmond and El Cerrito, and the Martinez Board.

Reservoir Proposal May Affect Sleepy Hollow

Residents of the Sleepy Hollow area today faced a new road battle with county officials, one which concerns a thoroughfare described by one Hollow homeowner as "a road that will go from nowhere to nowhere."

The homeowner is William D. Leonard, 25 Irving Lane, president of the Sleepy Hollow Recreational Association, the non-profit group which owns the Sleepy Hollow Pool Park.

Last week, the recreation group, over the signature of Leonard, forwarded a letter to Chairman Mel Nielsen of the County Board of Supervisors protesting the county's plans to construct a new road on the steep ridge to the south of the proposed Briones Valley Reservoir.

THE RESERVOIR, part of the East Bay Municipal Utility District's Briones Dam construction, will inundate Bear Creek Road and parts of Hampton Road. EBMUD has obligated itself to construct a replacement road for the county, and the county now has four alternate routes under study for the location of this road.

Two of the alternatives follow the south shore of the reservoir, along the steep ridge backing on the Sleepy Hollow area. Vic Sauer, county public works director, said these two alternatives would be considerably less expensive to construct than the routes which follow the north shore.

BUT THE RECREATION association and the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association feel a south shore road would damage several parcels of property, including the 54-acre park area owned by the 350-member recreation group.

The resolution which was passed unanimously by directors of the recreation association last week read, in part:

"The... association is violently opposed to the location of any county highway across its property, or between its property and the new Briones Valley Reservoir. Such a road would destroy the planned development of an existing community recreational area, and create an unnecessary circulation of traffic to the detriment of the safety and welfare of the community."

LEONARD, who is also a member of the improvement association, said opposition also stems from the fact the proposed road would intersect with three existing roads and would provide easy access to the Sleepy Hollow area as a means of reaching Orinda and Orinda Village.

This threat of enlarging the traffic load in the tranquil residential area of the Hollow is what prompted the community's

Anti-Litter Campaign In March Set

Plans for the month-long Make Orinda Clean campaign during March gained momentum this week as Mrs. Paul Pollaczek, chairman of the Orinda Beautification Committee, attempted to schedule meetings with county officials concerning the program.

The campaign will be sponsored by the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, the Orinda Association, the beautification committee and The Sun and all civic organizations and local improvement groups in the community will be invited to take part.

GENERALLY A PART of the year-around anti-litter program of the County Public Works Department, the campaign is being held during March specifically to tie in with National Conservation Month, Mrs. Pollaczek explained.

The beautification committee met last week to outline preliminary plans for the campaign. The meeting was held in Stanley Allen's office and those present included:

The Mesdames Robert Patmont, Fred Rust, John Gilmore, Ralph Hickcox, Basil Winslow and Benjamin West and Neil Porter, Tom Sibary, DeLoss Winkler and Allen.

ALTHOUGH THE program will be continued through the entire month of March, a community-wide cleanup will be concentrated during the last two weeks of the month, according to Mrs. Pollaczek.

Definite arrangements will await the conclusion of the meetings with county officials, she said.

Local Man Plans Bowling Area

Simon Siegel, 35 Longridge Road, is president of Lucky Lanes, Incorporated, which is planning to open a new 40-lane bowling center in San Pablo in about 60 days.

Siegel, who has had private bowling interests in San Francisco and Oakland for about 12 years, recently moved to Orinda from San Jose to be closer to the new bowling center.

THE NEW, modern bowling establishment is located at San Pablo Dam Road and San Pablo Avenue, in front of Brookside Hospital in San Pablo, and is about 15 minutes from the Orinda Crossroads.

One of the unique features of the new center is that the 40 lanes are separated by the main concourse into two banks of 20 lanes each.

Lucky Lanes, equipped with Brunswick machinery in decorator colors, is 44,000 square feet in size, with a large parking area.

The main concourse, which runs the full length of the building, will have refreshment facilities.

DINNER FOR EIGHT will have to be earlier than 8 to make curtain-time when Hal & Ruth Johnson entertain for friends at Mike Lynn's restaurant. Dinner guests here will be Jean & Jim Gratz, Dorothy & Joe Villa of Berkeley & Lenore & Leonard Andrews.

Alice & Stanley Thompson have invited Rudy & Mary Grah & the Andrew Hartanovs to share fare with them at their home before hustling for the Lafayette Town Hall's current production & Jane & Elliott Rose will be joined by the Ernest Haynes when they dine with their eye on the clock.

Responsible for not rushing their dozen dinner guests too much to catch good seats for the Sat. night performance will be Alexander & Josephine McGookin.

THESE THREE young men were among the group of Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce members who participated Saturday in another planting period at Bryant Circle in Orinda. The project, involving the planting of young trees, was under the direction of Mrs. Ann Pollaczek and the Orinda Beautification Committee. From left to right are Frank Peake, Glen Chittenden and John Schlichtman.

Chamber Budget Debate Concerns Yule Allotment

The 1960 budget of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce was thrown back to committee by chamber directors Wednesday afternoon because it reduced the allotment for a Christmas program by more than $1000.

Cliff Silvan, chairman of the budget committee, presented a $7200 annual budget to the directors and noted that no outside revenues were included. All income to be realized by the chamber would be through dues, he said.

ONLY $600 WAS included in the budget for the Christmas program, and President Lou Repetto noted that in past years the Yule-tide extravaganza has cost between $1600 and $1800.

The difference this year, Repetto added, would be in the omission of the overhead decorations for the downtown district, which cost $100 a year.

Director Stanford White stated that the chamber's dues were raised last year to take care of the Christmas program, and if the overhead decorations are to be omitted, "something else in connection with the Christmas program should be done."

REPETTO SUGGESTED THAT the additional money be used "for one big give, perhaps in the field of beautification."

Anita Day Hubbard Speaks To Rotarians, Sorooptimists

A joint luncheon of the Orinda Rotary Club and the Lafayette-Orinda Sorooptimist Club took place Wednesday at Mike Lynn's in Orinda.

As speaker of the day, Anita Day Hubbard chose as her topic, "Old Problems in a Changing World."

"MATURITY SHOULD be a rewarding part of life and a challenge to new and intelligent effort," she said.

"And particularly an opportunity for community service," Mrs. Hubbard continued, "and an understanding of needs of other humans."

"Youth is a time for learning; middle age is a time for accomplishment and maturity a time for favoring rewards," she stated.

ANITA DAY HUBBARD has been the "Good Neighbor" of the San Francisco Examiner for 25 years. Her column started in 1937 and has become a public service. During wartime, Mrs. Hubbard helped her readers through personal crisis by giving advice on such problems as those of young couples who had hastily married, of wives with babies who came from the East to join their husbands to discover their men had been shipped out to secret destinations. Mothers of small children found work in war plants and had to make adjustments.

"The high cost of living, the dissatisfaction of many housewives and the changing moral standards bring about emotional and social problems," Mrs. Hubbard pointed out.

RECEIVING THOUSANDS of letters and phone calls daily, Mrs. Hubbard gives each a helpful answer.

She answers questions directly whenever possible and often refers inquirers who may be in need of professional help to proper agencies or individual specialists.

Miramonte Mirror...

Free Rides Galore Are Feature of Slave Day

By JULE' NOLLER

Miramonte's "Slave Day," February 11, found Mark Jacobs pushing Gary Black 'round school with Gary wearing a green and white ally cap and reading the "Confidential," Miramonte's monthly gossip sheet.

Nancy Gosc'h was the unlucky slave of four seniors—Kurt Lundblad, Butch Guarneri, Squire Fridell and Skip Nelson. One of her duties was carrying all of their books to each of their classes for the entire day.

Among the other slaves and masters were Bonnie Henning pulling Steve Cantril in his wagon, Janet Lucas pulling John Rinne on a flie, and Sally Spott carrying Charlie Blue's books and wearing a sack on her back.

"Deutscher Verein," the recently formed German Club, has an unusual problem: They have a lot of money and don't know what to do with it!

The only solution they could find was to spend it on a trip to San Francisco for dinner at a German restaurant. Joe Ayres, Mike Eaton, Lynn Loveland, Nancy Grah, Dick Miles and Bob Jones are some of the officers and active members of the organization.

The annual Science Fair, to which Miramonte students contribute their biology and science projects, has announced the winners of the 1960 awards. In the field of biological science, Ken Wagner received the first place honors; Karen Olson, second, and Dick Sulliffe came in third. Mike Dauphinee was the winner in the physical science division of the fair.

The sophomore class has been rather active lately with plans for their class assembly to be put on for the school and also with their dance which is tonight. The theme and title for the soph dance is "Passport to Romance." To carry out the theme, the bids were printed in the form of a passport.

Roger McCosker, sophomore class president, is in charge of the class assembly, which will be produced in March. Singing, dancing and a satire of a movie or a television show will make up most of their assembly.

Carol Gilmore, Cathy Oliphant, Paul McChesney, Hester Harris and Jeff Knudsen are part of the sophomore council, who are helping Roger in carrying out these plans.

Tonight the Spanish Club, under the direction of its president, Carol Knudsen, and advisor Senorita Van Dam, will see "Jose Greco," a famous Spanish dancer.

Three senior girls who plan to go are: Norita Jones, Hetty Dutra and Marilyn Cook.

"Murder in the Cathedral" is on the agenda for the Drama Club's outings. They plan to see the dress rehearsal of this at San Francisco State this month. The club is allowed free admission to dress rehearsals of plays at Diablo Valley College and San Francisco State College.

"This year the Drama Club will not be able to present a play," Skiing at Dodge Ridge last Saturday were Lynn Bickerstaff and Randy Thaman, Mike La Plant, Brad Olsen, Pete Yedidia, Joan Radonich and Don McMacken.

Joyce and Sherry Odenhall, with their parents, and Carol Gilmore, skied at Squaw Valley last Friday and Edelweiss on Saturday. Also at Edelweiss was the Hilger family with Bill and Dean Hilger who attend Miramonte.

Joe and Eddy, one of the Bay Area's new folk song discoveries, will perform for the Miramonte student body at an assembly on March 11. The two singers are graduates of Berkeley High and are now working in the night clubs as an act. They are famous for their rendition of "The Fox" which they sing "a capella," as they do in all of their numbers.

Richard Cass Piano Concert Is Tonight

One of the rising young stars on the American musical scene is a personable young Southerner who will appear tonight at 8 at the Las Lomas High School auditorium, Walnut Creek.

This concert is the second of the series of concerts presented by the Acalanes Community Concert Association.

He is Richard Cass, a pianist in his twenties from Greenville, S.C. who rocketed into the national spotlight seven years ago when the Twentieth Biennial Young Artists Competition awarded him the title of Artist Auditions of the National Federation of Music Clubs and who has since gone on to win international honors in two years of study abroad.

IT WAS IN New York's Town Hall on April 11, 1953, that Richard Cass, then only 21, was selected from a large field of outstanding young artists from all over the United States for the Federation's coveted honor.

On the same day, the artist was offered a contract for concert representation by Columbia Artists Management, Inc. Bright Scholarship for study abroad. Although the judges of the Federation contest and his managers felt that he was ready for a concert career and engagements for his first tour were already flowing in, Cass preferred to take advantage of the opportunity to broaden the base of his musicianship and to deepen the understanding of his art.

The Fulbright Scholarship was renewed for a second year, and the artist spent two seasons at the Ecole Normale de Musique where his piano artistry won the approval of such great musicians and teachers as Jules Gentil, Nadia Boulanger and Alfred Cortot.

CASS WAS BORN in Greenville, S.C. on May 3, 1931. He received his early musical training at home, later studied privately with Mrs. Lawrence Bentz, and a scholarship student at Furman University in Greenville, with Lenoir Patton Almond and Wendell Keeney.

After winning the National Federation of Music Clubs Auditions in New York, Cass returned to Furman to take his final academic examinations and win his Bachelor of Arts degree. He was selected for the Algonquin Sydney Sullivan Award by the New York Southern Society "in recognition of high aspirations and noble humanitarian qualities of character."

He was also elected to "Hand and Torch, honorary scholastic fraternity, and Quaternions, student leadership fraternity. For three summers Cass was a scholarship student at the Chautauque School of Music and, while there, appeared as soloist with the Chautauque Symphony.

Admission to the Richard Cass Concert in Walnut Creek is by membership in the Acalanes Community Concert Association. By Florence Dennis.

Services Held For James M. Roach

Funeral services for James M. Roach, who died last Saturday at his 149 Maxine Drive home, were held Tuesday at St. Michael and All Angels Episcopal Church.

The Reverend Richard Shackelford officiated at the funeral services which were under the direction of the MacFarlane-Bryant Chapel. Private internment followed at the Chapel of the Chimes in Oakland.

A native of Idaho, Mr. Roach, 45, was employed as a salesman by an Oakland television retail firm. He leaves his wife, Esther, a son, James Peter Roach, and a step-daughter, Mrs. Judith Marie Kuhlman, all of Pleasant Hill, and his mother, Mrs. Claudia Roach of British Columbia.

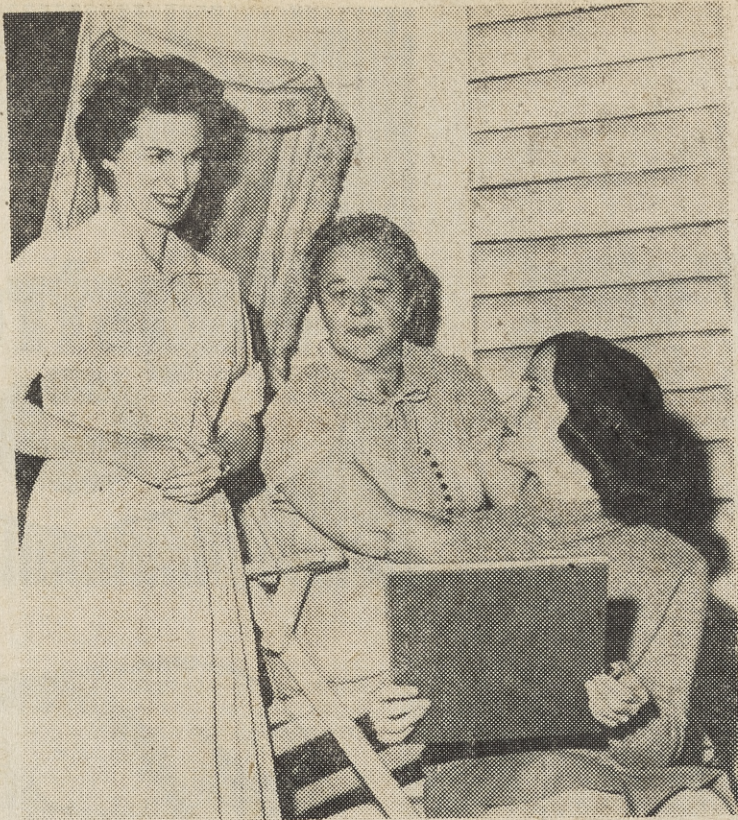

Other survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Kuhlman of Pleasant Hill and Mrs. Marjorie Gallon of San Francisco, and five brothers, Ellis W. of British Columbia, John N. of Vancouver and Robert G., Peter and Sidney A. Roach, all of Oregon.

Jean Bates Attends Young Republican Meet

Jean Bates represented Contra Costa at the 1960 state convention of the California Young Republicans held last weekend in Los Angeles.

She joined 500 other young GOP delegates from throughout the state who gathered to draw up an election year "plan of action" for their role in this year's presidential, congressional and legislative campaigns.

Lending helping hands to the young people were prominent party leaders Goodwin Knight, Senator Richard Dolwig (San Mateo, 21st District); U.S. Senator Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska; Pat Hillings, A. Ronald Button and Robert Kirkwood.

Pony Express to Thunder Through Central County

A leather-slapping Pony Express rider will thunder through the central county communities, probably March 30, in the local centennial year celebration.

The pony express was born on April 3, 1860, and although it lasted only a little more than one year, connecting St. Joseph, Mo., with the west coast, it has become a legend.

Roy Bloss of Alamo, co-chairman of the Contra Costa-Alameda Counties Pony Express Centennial Committee, told The Sun how the fabled rider (who defied the Indians but gave in quickly to the telegraph) crossed the Carquinez straits on the ferry, rode into Martinez for a new horse and grub, and then took off on a route not definitely ascertained but which probably took him through Lafayette, headed for Oakland and San Francisco.

THE CENTENNIAL ride, however, will begin in Martinez, where a celebration will be held, and will run through Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda and Oakland to San Francisco.

The rider or riders will pick up official messages (but not U.S. mail) from the communities, leading officials directed to the San Francisco mayor, Bloss said. More details will be arranged at the committee's next meeting, February 28 at 2 p.m., in the Pacific Gas and Electric Building, Walnut Creek.

Larger observances are planned in Sacramento and San Francisco (which have been disputing the title of the official western terminal point of Pony Express).

THE HISTORIC ride from Martinez to Oakland was described in 1860 by the Contra Costa Gazette as "... the swiftest of the whole route. The rider left at 7:30 a.m., and pulled reins in Oakland at 9:32 a.m., only one hour and 59 minutes later.

Bloss said, "We are not sure about whether there will be one rider or two."

Acalanes District, Sun Will Hold News, Ad Clinic

The Sun and the Acalanes High School District will sponsor a journalism and year-book clinic next Friday at Acalanes High School.

Attending will be students from Acalanes, Miramonte, Las Lomas and Del Valle High Schools. Over 100 youngsters are expected to attend.

Under discussion at the clinic, which will last from 10 a.m. until 1:30 p.m., will be advertising, editorial and photographic aspects of journalism as well as a discussion of the communications field as it applies to a lifetime career.

Taking part in the conference will be Herman Silverman, editor and publisher of The Sun, and Sun staff members, including Bob Rapida and Dick Osborn.

Students will not only participate in the discussion of editorial and advertising matters, but will take part in small seminars devoted to the individual papers produced by the students.

Hardware Confab E. E. Turner of Danville Hardware Company will be a delegate to the 59th annual convention and western states hardware-housewares show in San Francisco Sunday to Tuesday.

Heart Sunday Is Feb. 28; Quotas, Leaders Revealed

Quotas for each area in the 1960 Heart Fund drive were announced this week by Mrs. Robert Clough, Contra Costa County Heart Sunday chairman.

Mrs. Clough said the major portion of the quotas set up is expected to be collected in the one-day, two-hour drive (2 to 4 p.m.) on February 28, when volunteers throughout the county will make calls on their neighbors for funds.

The county goal for 1960 has been set at $64,000. THIS IS AN 11 1/2 per cent increase over the amount of $56,640 collected in 1959.

"The increased amount collected in the 1960 Heart Sunday drive will go almost totally for heart research," Mrs. Clough said.

Establishment of County Morgue Recommended

County Coroner L. H. Fraser has recommended immediate separation of the ambulance and funeral home businesses and establishment of a county morgue.

Dr. Fraser suggested that cities license ambulance firms and prohibit by ordinance the association of any ambulance driver with any mortuary. He said operation of ambulances by one of two competing mortuaries both in Pittsburg and Concord has created administrative problems for his office.

A county morgue can be established within two or three years in conjunction with construction of the new Martinez Community Hospital at Taylor Blvd. and Grayson Roads, south of the city, Dr. Fraser said.

After the central morgue has been in operation for one or two years, Dr. Fraser added, full time coroner's investigators should replace the present morticians who serve as unpaid coroner's deputies.

"This five year program would solve all the problems that have plagued this office during the past decade," he said.

Even making every mortician a coroner's deputy and rotating their time of service has not

Dad, Daddy--Your Picture Is Over Here

"I wonder what that man with the camera is doing?" This is a typical question asked by most persons whenever they see a photographer in action. And, if the "Man with a Camera" happens to be aiming your way, you may well be in line for a cash prize.

Each week, Sun photographers roam throughout the central county area taking pictures of commuters. One of these commuters has his (or her) picture published in The Sun.

If the person pictured is a Sun Subscriber, then a $10 check is presented after he is identified as The Sun's Lucky Commuter. If the person is not a Sun Subscriber, then a $5 check and a year's subscription to The Sun is presented to the Lucky Commuter.

It's easy and fun to play The Sun's Lucky Commuter game -- who knows -- you may be the next Lucky Commuter.

Vallecito PTA Gives Award to Virginia Steel

Vallecito PTA, at its regular meeting last week, presented an honorary life membership to Virginia Steel.

She was chosen for this honor by a committee composed of Principal Helen Cory, Rose Hawkins and Elizabeth Hartman, all holders of PTA honorary life memberships themselves.

The presentation of the pin and card was made by Mrs. Hawkins, who quoted some of Virginia's public spirited services.

SHE FIRST SERVED on the Vallecito PTA board as cook book chairman in 1952. Since then she served as legislative chairman, teachers revolving fund chairman and in 1954 was president of the unit.

Virginia has also served faithfully on the Lafayette Citizens Committee on Education. Serving as den mother for each of her two boys, and as a Brownie leader for her daughter's troop also took of her time.

At the present time Virginia is serving as library chairman at Vallecito. In November of last year she organized and ran a very successful Book Fair for the benefit of the school library.

Mats' Combo To Perform For Dancing

A post-game dance for Aca-lanes and Miramonte high school students following the final tilt of the current basketball season, will be next Friday night at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda.

Music for the dance will be provided by a combo of students from Miramonte, who volunteered their services to make the wind-up dance a gala occasion. The group is led by Tom Brooks.

THIS WILL BE the third such dance sponsored by the church, which undertook the project as an experiment earlier this month.

Indications are that the results have been so satisfactory for all concerned that the church may continue to sponsor informal dances from time to time even though there will be no more games.

Admission to the dance is 25 cents per couple or 15 cents stag, and student body cards from Aca-lanes or Miramonte must be shown. Once anyone leaves the dance he may not be re-admitted. Hot dogs and soft drinks may be purchased on the premises.

The church is at St. Stephen's Drive and Las Vegas Road, Orinda.

IN ACCEPTING the appointment, Jacuzzi disclosed that one of the highlights of the month's activity will be the Golden Heart Ball, to be held Friday, February 26, at Hotel Claremont.

The Golden Heart Ball is being staged by the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity of the University of California, with James Keck serving as chairman. Other members of the dance committee are Kenneth Young, Bill Paradis, Neil Hollander and Steve Guen-sler.

Tickets are $2.50 per couple. They may be purchased from members of Sigma Phi Epsilon 2316 Bowditch, Berkeley. Music or by writing Golden Heart Ball, will be provided by Del Courtney and his orchestra.

Science projects, based on individual interests are being worked upon by students in Miss Tighe's seventh grade class. Each student has chosen a category of scientific material that he finds particularly interesting.

The class is fulfilling four requirements given by Miss Tighe. The assignment is a written report, an oral illustrated report, a hand-constructed three-dimensional object and a chart. All four phases of the project may be accomplished in the third quarter of the school years.

SOME VERY INTERESTING work is already being done: Radio by Paul Labarile, Mathematics by Tom Statton, Zoology by Dave Mitchell, Astronomy by Linda Murphy, Janet Carter and Carol Baptista, Photo-Electric Cell by Bruce Odelberg, Plant Life by Jerry Kirby, Horses by Kristen Green, Shells by Judy Hauer, Bees by Bill Delos, Science in Antartica by Calvin Anderson, Study of Volcanoes by Ted-Schilling, Geology by Caren Brown, Motors by Andy Hall, Mammals by David Miller and Oceanography by Alan Howard.

The Girls' Athletic Association of Pine Grove has started using the trampoline as another activity for their after-school sports.

UNDER THE INSTRUCTION of Miss Gee, the girls have been able to master many skills in other sports and hope to do the same in tumbling.

Jumping on the trampoline is not only fun but it helps develop balance and coordination. In about two weeks many people will be going into advanced stunts.

A special class has been started for the girls who are interested in advancing in modern dance. This class meets on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, from 8:30 to 9 o'clock.

This class has been started as an extra activity to give the girls who are interested in dancing a chance to work with each other.

Glorietta: Tumbling

Miss Siefker's, Miss Lach's and Mrs. Cutler's third grade classes are having tumbling instruction from Mr. Isola. So far they have learned the forward roll.

Miss Stadt's fifth graders presented an original play in Spanish. The plot involves an American tourist in Spain.

Miss Nancy Kehrl from San Francisco State, is visiting Mrs. Geer's second grade for eight weeks starting Monday. She is a student teacher and is observing classroom procedure at the second grade level.

Despondent Man Takes Own Life In Orinda Hills

A Richmond man, despondent over ill health, took his life Tuesday in the lonely Orinda hills near the proposed East Bay Municipal Utility District reservoir.

Edward M. Brooks, 55, used a vacuum cleaner hose attached to the exhaust pipe of his car as the instrument of death, according to reports of the Contra Costa Sheriff's department.

The report indicated that he inhaled the fatal carbon monoxide fumes in the front seat of his car while it was parked on Hampton Road near Bear Creek Road. Sheriff's deputies found a note in the car to the man's wife, Emma.

Dads Hosted By Brownies Troop

Bishop's Company Restores Church-Drama Heritage

By JEAN HENDERSON

On Tuesday night a group of young actors known as the Bishops Company, in honor of the Methodist bishop who founded the organization, presented "The Devil and Daniel Webster" in the church of St. Stephens Episcopal Church in Orinda to an interested and appreciative audience.

Thus was another and challenging step taken toward the restoration of the century old union of drama and the church.

The players are of several faiths and races and they have played across the nation in churches of many denominations, in schools and universities and in prisons and army camps.

They comprise one of three units of the company now on tour, with a repertoire of six plays currently being produced.

In addition to the Stephen Vincent Benet play presented in Orinda, these include "The Boy with the Cart" and "Sleep of Prisoners" by Christopher Fry, "Cry the Beloved Country" and "Too Late the Phalarope" by Alan Paton, "The Great Divorce" by C. S. Lewis, and "An Episode of Sparrows," whose author is unknown to this reviewer.

THE TRADITION of Church and Drama dates back to the 10th and 11th centuries when the Christian church rescued drama as an art in Europe, on a "stage" with "players," from the total oblivion of 500 years of reaction to the fall of the Roman empire with its obscenities and decadence typified in the theater of its time.

The mystery and miracle plays in the church in Europe, depicting the Nativity (the basis of the Christmas plays for all the years which follow), the Passion (the Oberammergau play is the most famous descendent) and other Biblical themes gave dignity once more to drama.

Indeed, the first known plays in the French language and in English were presented in the church. In centuries following, the actors moved out onto the church steps and into the great squares in front and gradually became secular.

THE BISHOP'S COMPANY is an attempt to restore the relationship, with good plays of religious significance to the lives of people.

The actors are young and play with zest and a good deal of skill. Don Crail, who played Daniel Webster, was vocally very substantial in the part, carrying it off with authority and conviction, despite his youth and slight appearance.

Whether history or Hollywood has set the precedence of solid stockiness we associate with Edward Arnold and Edward G. Robinson as Dan'l, it is some handicap to the youthful player.

PAUL HANSEN, an Acalanes graduate and former Lafayette resident, who competent and at times rather moving as the bewildered Jabez Stone, who had sold his soul to the devil.

The reviewer remembers his performance in the Acalanes opera production of "Finian's Rainbow," when he was a very amusing and delightful leprechaun. He studied at Pasadena Playhouse before joining this company.

Dan Barrows played the Devil with a face of cherubic innocence, which was highly effective as a frame for malevolence.

JUDY RICHARDSON, who directs the plays, gave a fine performance in two parts because she is vocally rich, and Elizabeth Officer was colorful and convincing in her chores.

Completing the company, and with evidence of good training and real dedication to the group's ideals, were Beverly Weaver, Tony Montanari and Christopher Elm.

The repertory group will be playing in the Bay Area the rest of February, and their itinerary and repertoire are available at St. Stephen's church office, CLifford 4-3771.

We Expect Leadership... What Are We Getting?

Frankly, we think the school people should have some guts.

Information on the fluoridation of water, and fluorides as a benefit to teeth in that it is a deterrent to decay, is carried in textbooks used by every one of the school districts.

Recently a health council in one of our communities included an article on fluoridation in its monthly publication and then gave the publication to the local school district to be distributed to the parents via the school children.

BUT THE PUBLICATION was held up by the district superintendent of schools on the ground that it was "propaganda" and that the fluoridation issue was political in that it will appear on the June ballot.

At that time, County Superintendent of School Dr. Floyd Marchus pointed out that the education code forbids school authorities to distribute fluoridation election materials.

However, he has since clarified his statement by saying that school districts can send home all the information they please regarding fluoridation as long as they do not electioneer—that is state outright, "vote for fluoridation."

We would like to pose a question: What would happen if a local health council made a statement, "We endorse vaccination." Is this "propaganda"? Of course not, and the majority of people realize the need for, and the acceptance of, vaccination.

But when it comes to fluoridation it becomes "propaganda."

ARE THE SCHOOL districts going to take all their textbooks out of the classrooms just because they mention fluoridation... and because there is an election coming up?

That hardly sounds reasonable.

Are the school people going to refuse to talk about rapid transit because it is political in that there is an election coming up on that too?

We hardly think so.

Let's face a couple of facts. Fluoridation of the water supply to help prevent tooth decay is an accepted, recognized health measure. It has been approved by the County Health Department and by every health council in the county.

To hide your head in the sand just because it "is going to be on the ballot" is ridiculous.

WE EXPECT LEADERSHIP from our school boards. They should have the guts to stand up and do what is right... what is best for our youngsters, not get scared off by a small segment of public opinion.

The ball is right in the hands of our local school boards. They have the opinion of the county superintendent of schools, and the district attorney's office did not support the contention that fluoridation material is propaganda.

And as for the endorsement of a local health council, made up of volunteer citizens with parent representatives from each school and representatives from local and county groups, if this is a "propaganda" group then perhaps the school board would do well to do without its services altogether.

The responsibility lies with the school board... the benefit lies with the children.

It's Really Up to You... When Chips Are Down

Of course it's not news to you, but this is an election year.

Putting aside such elections of note as the Presidential contest, let's consider the fact that there are a host of local elections facing those of us who vote.

There will be plenty of issues on the ballot—from bond issues to fluoridation issues, but these, by and large, do not involve candidates.

It is not necessary to point out that the services rendered by our government can be no better than the people we elect to office to direct, control and manage these services.

FOR THIS REASON, every election involving a candidate is an important election, because the person who is put into office will serve and represent you.

In the last issue of The Sun the offices involving candidates were listed, and they will be before the public eye again and again until the final vote is cast.

We would like to suggest that now is the time to look over the list of offices and candidates carefully.

If it is not too much to suggest, you might even consider running for one of the offices yourself... for instance, a seat on the board of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District. This is not to suggest that the incumbents are not doing a good job, but merely to point out that it is not fair to saddle the same willing people, year after year, with a difficult and sometimes thankless task.

IF YOU DO NOT choose to take an active part in the government of our area, then you can take an active interest in the management of the various political subdivisions and districts.

An informed voter is able to go to the polls on voting day with a knowledge of the abilities of the candidates and something of the task facing the elected official.

In this way you will be able to vote intelligently instead of not at all or haphazardly.

The names and histories of the candidates will be presented to you in The Sun before election time. You will have the opportunity to hear these people, if you so desire... to meet them and to learn a little about their abilities and personalities.

The ball will be in your hands come election day. The time to prepare is now.

Sun Newsman Finds Driving to Sacramento is Easy

By NORMAN COLBY

Many Contra Costans who are so happy to be living within easy reach of San Francisco and other Bay Area cities forget they are also only a couple of hours of "leisurely" driving from one of the most important governmental centers in the western United States.

Sacramento is worth visiting. More really newsworthy things are happening there every day and every week than are happening in all the Bay cities combined.

AS AN ADULT interested in the future of California, you owe it to yourself to see the State Capitol, and to evaluate the kind of city which contains it.

A visit to the capitol building, preferably during the legislative session which resumes in March, would be an unforgettable experience for your young children.

And it's worth repeating, members of The Sun editorial staff learned last Friday.

Associate Editor Dick Osborn and I piled into Sun Publisher Herman Silverman's waiting car at 7:30 a.m. Young Mark Silverman, age 13, made room in back for me and the camera.

ALTHOUGH A TRIP to Sacramento (which is just over 60 miles) should begin in the morning, 7:30 a.m. is a little early—unless you want to make Governor Edmund G. (Pat) Brown's press conference with presidential aspirant Hubert Humphrey.

We took the Martinez-Benicia auto ferry, and Highway 21 which joins the straight-as-an-arrow Highway 40 near Cordelia. And there were no hitches, except Herman almost missed the ferry, which was just about to pull away.

We could have driven to Crockett, crossed the Carquinez Bridge and followed Highway 40 all the way. There is only one stop light between Vallejo and Sacramento on "40".

On the way, we talked politics, naturally. It was as though the political fires which burn day and night in the great valley city were already warming us, as Fairfield, Vacaville and finally, Davis were left behind.

IT WAS TEMPTATION to walk around Sacramento, with its great trees and faint mid-western tinge. But we were anxious to see Senator Humphrey's "hello everybody" smile, recently described in a national magazine.

Newsman for the United Press-International, Associated Press, N.B.C., Sacramento Bee and other major papers fired the questions. Humphrey said he was "pleased" with President Eisenhower's disarmament plan, but added he earlier proposed it in Pontiac, Michigan. He and Pat Brown seemed to be good friends, but he warned he will enter the California primary if Jack Kennedy does.

Senator Humphrey seemed relaxed, although a rough session lay ahead of him in Fresno.

In the lull after the "meat and potatoes" questions, Dick Osborn asked what Brown and Humphrey talked about before the press conference. He was answered by wide smiles and some generalities.

HERMAN ASKED a "birth control" question and got a specific answer. As president, Humphrey would provide birth control measures to other countries, where private agencies couldn't or wouldn't do the job, and the other country made a positive request.

We also witnessed the phenomena of "separate but equal" status for newsmen and television men. At the conclusion, the senator popped up, marched back into another room where already the television cameras and lighting were trained on an empty desk. He stepped to the desk, smiling, and the door shut.

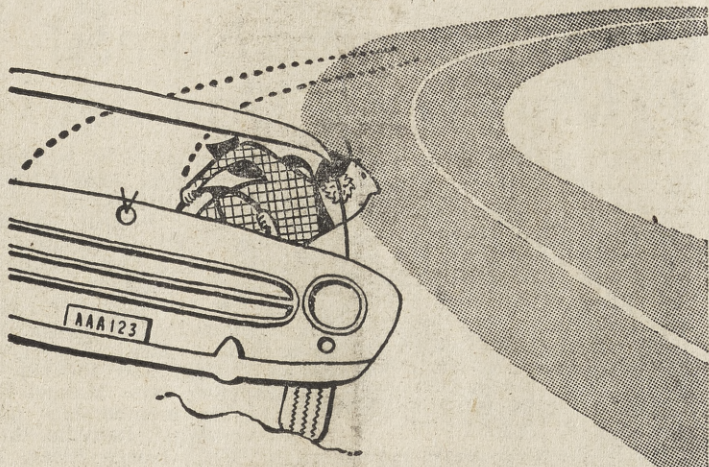

Pat Brown, holding his own press conference, informed Herman that he considers Jerry Waldie "one of our ablest" state assemblymen. Answering another newsman's question, he intimated that, "The school system should have been repaired 20 years ago. Local schools should be doing more for themselves."

He said he prefers higher taxes and enough "higher

HOW TO STAY OUT OF SKIDS—To maintain traction and control of your automobile when driving on ice or snow the California State Automobile Association says to: (1) keep your speed well below dry-road speed; (2) keep your car pulling steadily; (3) take curves cautiously; (4) avoid turning quickly or swerving; (5) avoid applying the brakes suddenly or too hard; (6) don't accelerate suddenly; and (7) if necessary to shift to a lower gear or drive range do it gently.

We Like It Here... Have pack-lunch & jeans Will travel to Squaw...

By MARIE MONAHAN

A mass migration will take place in the next ten days. The reason of course, the VIII Olympic Winter Games. It will be a regular Crosby Clambake on ice—a real Snow Ball!

It wouldn't be a bad idea if you're just up for the day to pack a picnic lunch. In case the hot dog machine breaks down or the line runs all the way to Reno.

Bring a bottle of burgundy in case there's a blizzard. Emergency!

IT APPEARS from the papers simply EVERYBODY will be there, fashionably turned out. Stretch pants & cozy-collared parkas.

I see by this morning's mail several Big Sales for Olympic fans. A waterproofed suede coat—only ONLY $149.95...

A pair of stretch pants going for $44.50—slashed down from $49.95. What a buy—for somebody else!

We have solved the problem of what to wear. We are far more concerned about what will be available to EAT while we are there. I may tie a little box of snacks under everybody's chins—just like a family of St. Bernards...

Back to the Winter Games wardrobe. If you've got a sweater, a pair of jeans, you're in business. Just pack your lunch & tickets can be had at the door. Daily.

We needed some of our ski aficionado-friends who came up with the following notes while waiting 8 hours to get on the chair lift last Sunday.

The people who are really IN will be wearing hand-knit sweaters.

Machine knit sweaters are definitely OUT... unless (& get this) UNLESS they have a couple of big holes in them... strategically placed.

This marks the Very IN skier. One who has stoutheartedly braved the big white mountains of snow.

It's that easy. All there is to it. Take an old sweater—or a new one—punch a pencil through it a few times. Then pull & stretch to finish.

BUT here's the Best Tip yet!

Squaw Valley's own Alec Cushing, who could afford stretch pants as far as stretch pants could stretch, usually turns up around the lodge in a tired tweed jacket & a pair of faded jeans.

A college girl waitress at his lodge & one of the BEST on the slopes does her downhill turns in a knee-length army jacket & old jeans.

PART of the Sierra's Wild Life species... the novices & newcomers who hug the hearth are distinguished by their marks of abundant fur on hoods, hats, collars & mittens. They have all the equipment for skiing but never go near the slopes. They are called Snow Bunnies because their habits are mainly nocturnal, their habitat, the bar.

The real IN skiers are wearing Levis. This is alright as long as you don't TRY to ski, fall down & get Sitzmarks, or Telemarks, those telltale spots back there that show you have christened the stuff that looks soft but ISN'T.

Lost in the crowd, you'll be right in style with the IN skiers. Even if you don't know a long-throng from a pajama string.

If you DO ski, the long-thongs are the latest fad. Have these to match your sweater. Even the holey one.

So play it cool in the blue jeans & brush up a bit on the ski jargon.

That way you'll play a good game—just like the guy next to you. Who MIGHT be me!

We might be Schussboomers but we're not Olympic stars YET.

Letters to The Editor

PROPAGANDA?

Dear Editor:

What has happened to our so-called enlightened suburban population that we let medically established facts about an extensively tested and endorsed measure for dental health be labeled propaganda?

Fluoridation has received more scientific study over a more extended time than any other health measure in our history. It has been endorsed by the American Dental Association, American Medical Association, American Academy of Pediatrics, American Public Health Association and on and on. And yet, Dr. Floyd Marchus, our county superintendent of schools, labels fluoridation information "propaganda."

I WONDER HOW many in our area realize how much Contra Costa County needs fluoridation? Extensive surveys made by the County Health Department revealed that "40 per cent of the school-age children are in urgent need of dental care. 20 per cent have never been to a dentist. Less than one-half of the cavities are filled. 40 to 50 per cent of the children have orthodontic problems, a large proportion of which is due to the premature loss of teeth because of untreated decay."

I wonder how many realize that this one certain way of preventing dental decay costs but 10 per cent per person per year. Stated another way, the cost over a lifetime amounts to less than the cost of one filling and yet prevents up to 60 per cent new tooth decay.

The tragic part of all this is that as thoroughly tested and endorsed a health measure as this would be relegated to the realm of politics where a vociferous minority can confuse and frighten the layman voting public.

AND, INDEED, BRAND authoritative and scientifically established facts about fluoridation as "propaganda."

It would seem to me facts about fluoridation would be as welcome to school parents as the slip our children brought home recently regarding the advisability of getting four shots of Salk vaccine.

MRS. W. A. STANAITIS.

FLUORIDATION

Dear Editor:

Before I renew my subscription to The Sun I want to know whether it is true that The Sun prints only stories promoting fluoridation. This has been called to my attention by many Orindans.

I realize that all newspapers are entitled to their own opinion in their editorials.

HOWEVER, I HAVE never heard of a newspaper before that did not print letters to the editor on both sides of an issue, or which refused to publish notices of meetings.

If I have been misinformed let me know at your earliest convenience. Many people are awaiting your answer.

GRACE MCKNIGHT

(In the past, The Sun has printed hundreds of inches of anti-fluoridation matter. However, we reserve the right to edit and select anything, as do all newspapers.—Ed.)

ELECTION

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the board of trustees of the Orinda Union School District, I should like to express to you our sincere appreciation for the splendid support and cooperation which we received from you and your staff during our recent apportionment authorization election. The spirit of community betterment to which you have committed your paper is certainly to be commended.

J. L. SHEAFF

Under The Sun Basketball? Man of Year Clinics? The Sun at Work

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

What is the role of a newspaper in the community? Hey, wait a minute, dear reader, don't go away. This will not be a journalism dissertation, but permit me to ask a few questions:

Are you going to the Father-and-Kids Basketball Night at Diablo College tonight?

Did you attend a Man of the Year-Distinguished Service Award Dinner several weeks ago?

Did you attend the Publicity Workshop several months ago? Or the Town Meeting on incorporation? Or the Town Meeting on Annexation?

Are you asking, "What has all this to do with the role of a newspaper in the community?"

Getting to the point...

Well, it's like this:

We believe our primary job is to print the news and to comment on it. We further believe it is a job of a newspaper to go one step further—to investigate and report. This, of course, The Sun has been doing for many years.

This policy makes some people very unhappy. Our county and other public officials often say we are pick-on them. Perhaps we are—but if the shoe fits—etc.

I am proud of The Sun staff and the reportorial job they do. Attesting to their able work is the award they just won—second place in California for all dailies and weeklies for "Outstanding Community Service." First place went to the Los Angeles Times. The Sun won for its series of articles and editorials on county government during 1959.

It's a tough contest

We believe this is the toughest prize to win in the annual contests of the California Newspaper Publishers Association because it is the only one in which you compete against all dailies, as well as weeklies. We also believe that community service is a primary responsibility of a newspaper.

In 1957, The Sun was awarded first place for "Outstanding Community Service" and '51 and '53 The Sun was second. Permit us to be immodest by pointing out The Sun has won more awards for Community Service in the past 10 years than any other newspaper in California.

And may we thank you for this. A newspaper is only as good as the support it receives. As readers and subscribers, you give us wonderful support. Many of you go beyond that—you write letters, you take action when necessary, you offer criticism and suggestions.

The business community gives The Sun excellent support. Advertising as you know, pays most of the bills for a newspaper. Your local stores who advertise make this paper possible. We ask you to mention The Sun to the stores who advertise—and to patronize them.

Yak, yak, yak, yak

Occasionally, you grow weary of an editorial campaign, as do we. But you seem to realize that repetition and time are required to change a policy or institute an action. Examples: pin ball machines, outlawed in many county cities, are still not prohibited by county law. And dances after high school sports events are still prohibited by our high schools. We have discussed these subjects for 13 years and we will continue to do so until constructive action is taken.

Incidentally, some people accuse The Sun of running such campaigns "to sell papers." We'd be delighted if editorials on pin balls or high school dances would sell additional papers. Unfortunately, they don't. Our newsstand sales vary little week to week. Big headlines make little difference to our circulation.

This year The Sun won first place among larger California weeklies for "Newspaper Promotion and Community Relations."

State and national...

During the past three years The Sun won two firsts and a second among small dailies and weeklies in the nation for "Newspaper Promotion and Community Relations." And in California The Sun won first place in '59, '57, '56 and a second in '58.

I've written many paragraphs to get to the prime point of this column—The Sun and community relations: tonight's basketball game, town meetings, etc.

The Sun tries to do more than present you with a newspaper each week. We enjoy living and working in the community. We try to make this a better community, in which to live. We try to use our facilities and abilities toward these ends.

Meetings, games, events

One way of doing this is to sponsor or co-sponsor community events. Here is the schedule, January through March:

January 21: Orinda Man of the Year Dinner, co-sponsored by the Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce.

January 26: Lafayette Man of the Year D.S.A. Dinner, co-sponsored by the Lafayette Jaycees.

(Pleasant Hill Man of the Year presentation was made at the Civic Council meeting.)

January 30: Walnut Creek Man of the Year D.S.A. Dinner, co-sponsored by the Walnut Creek Jaycees.

(Incidentally, the Jaycees do a grand job on these dinners and deserve all the credit.)

Tonight: At Diablo Valley College, 8 p.m., Fathers-Kids Basketball Night. Sponsored by The Sun and Contra Costa Junior College. Mom, you can go also—the whole family and neighbor kids, too. All for $1 for the first adult. See story and coupon in the first section.

High school and college

Friday, February 26: The Sun and Acalanes High School District are presenting a Journalism Clinic for interested students of Las Lomas, Miramonte, Del Valle and Acalanes at Acalanes. This is not a career discussion; but will be a clinic on writing, editing and editorial tasks as well as advertising and business. We are offering our services to the Mt. Diablo District if they wish a clinic.

Thursday, March 10: Tentative date of luncheon for journalism students at Diablo Valley College, sponsored by the county newspapers.

March 19-27: The Sun joins other Orinda groups to co-sponsor a Clean-up Orinda week.

Tuesday, March 22: The Sun and Diablo Valley College will present an Advertising Workshop.

In addition, Sun staff members have recently participated in special meetings or events sponsored by the Girl Scout Council (3 meetings), Boy Scout executive Board, chambers of commerce, improvement associations, service clubs, schools, etc. This does not count the numerous meetings "covered" by Sun editors in line of duty.

So... you see that the Sun plays several roles in the community. Do you have any comment or suggestions? Please let us hear from you.

nam, Forrest Knights and John Menz.

Flamingo Unit Plans Floral Tea, Fashion Show

Plans for one of the prettiest, most festive teas of the season, the Floral Tea and Fashion Show sponsored by the Flamingo Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center are almost completed.

The annual event will be given at Diablo Country Club on March 8 from 1:30 to 4 p.m. under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Edward Lazzareschi of Walnut Creek.

The committee, which began its planning six months ago, consists of Mrs. James Howe, floral arrangements; Mrs. Robert Kuhn, Mrs. Robert Dolin and Mrs. Richard Dole, tickets and donation; Mrs. Carroll Canty, programs; Mrs. William Ebke, fashions; Mrs. Vance Perry, tea tables; Mrs. Harry Akers and Mrs. Gerald Ingalls, refreshments; Mrs. Walter Reek Jr., publicity; and Mrs. Frank Fink, decorations.

This is the seventh year that the Flamingo Unit has presented its floral arrangement competition between the many civic organizations which participate. Since "South of the Border" is the theme of this year's tea, it will be one of the categories in the floral arrangements as well as "Around the World in Song" and "Oriental."

Between 2:30 and 3:30, there will be a commensurate fashion show presenting the newest spring showing of Joseph Maginn and members of the other sixteen Therapy Center units will model. Tea featuring the homemade cookies and breads for which the unit is becoming justly noted, will be served throughout the afternoon.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the unit, or by calling Mrs. Robert Kuhn, YE 4-0436, Ticket Chairman, or Mrs. Edward Lazzareschi, YE 4-6182.

All proceeds from this function go to the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center which renders complete service of rehabilitation through its various departments, including physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, audiology department, physiological services, social services and sheltered workshops. Anyone interested in its work is invited to tour the Center at its building, 1601 Golf Club Road, Pleasant Hill, directly across from Diablo Valley College, any Thursday afternoon between 1:30 and 4 p.m.

John Muir Auxiliary Elects New Officers

Unanimously elected to lead the Women's Auxiliary to John Muir Memorial Hospital for the coming year is Mrs. Charles Hart of Walnut Creek, who has led the auxiliary since it was formed last June, in addition to presiding over its executive council and Sierra, the "parent" Guild.

Serving with her will be Mrs. Hal Bates of Lafayette, first vice president; Mrs. Reid Cameron of Danville, second vice president; Mrs. John Hutch of Pleasant Hill, third vice president; Mrs. John Spatta of Walnut Creek, secretary; Mrs. Don Campbell of Lafayette, treasurer; and Mrs. Robert W. Hoyer of Pleasant Hill, public relations chairman.

Despite rainy weather, some 150 members of the Women's Auxiliary to the new regional hospital to be built on Ygnacio Valley Road attended the auxiliary's first annual meeting and election Monday morning at the Walnut Creek Elks' Club.

Following the 10:30 a.m. business meeting, during which coffee was provided by Stan's Brick House, a social interval preceded serving of buffet luncheon to members and guests.

Mrs. Harmon Howard of Walnut Creek, hospital board member in charge of women's activities, opened the meeting with a short report. Members who had been leading the auxiliary and executive council as advisory officers until the first annual election were introduced.

These include Mesdames Charles Hart, president; Frank Young and John Spatta, recording secretary; Owen Williams, corresponding secretary; Royal Doty, treasurer; Carl Knecht, membership chairman; Hal Bates, parliamentary; and Robert W. Hoyer, public relations chairman.

ga Guild; A. C. Dippo of Walnut Creek, Tenaya Guild; Philip Merrill of Lafayette, Glacier Guild; Jack Marchant of Lafayette, Yosemite Guild; Harry E. Aho of Walnut Creek, Wawona Guild; John Hutch of Pleasant Hill, Mariposa Guild; Charles Scudder of Ygnacio Valley, Kaweah Guild; Howard Flanders of Walnut Creek, Tuolumne Guild; Louis Fambini of Walnut Creek, Garnet Guild; and Charles Hart of Walnut Creek, Sierra Guild.

Mrs. Frank Malley of Lafayette, hospital board member who as a volunteer is directing the building fund campaign; and Bruce Copeland of Pleasant Hill, chairman of the hospital board of trustees, outlined current activities and plans for John Muir Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Frederick Hanson of Walnut Creek mentioned planning which began for the future hospital on a similar rainy day a couple of years ago in the same place, the Walnut Creek Elks' Club.

The 1960 "Evening Under the Stars," John Muir Memorial Hospital Auxiliary's cocktail fashion show for husbands and wives, is to be held either September 17 or 24 depending on which date is free of conflict with the Walnut Festival, Mrs. Howard announced.

This event was held last September at the Dollar Estate in Tice Valley. Its outstanding social and financial success have established "An Evening Under the Stars" as the auxiliary's annual big fund raising affair, members decided. Proceeds support the auxiliary's $15,000 pledge for John Muir Memorial Hospital's nursery.

Dr. & Mrs. Nelson Visit Sun Valley

Dr. and Mrs. Leland C. Nelson, 136 Donald Drive, Moraga, combined business with pleasure during their visit to Sun Valley, Idaho.

The couple spent many pleasurable moments skiing and Dr. Nelson also attended the annual meeting of the Northwest Medical Association.

Diablo Organ Meets March 2

The Diablo Organ Society will present a program called "Fun-Fest" at its next meeting on March 2.

The program will be conducted at the Walnut Creek Women's Club, 1224 Lincoln Avenue. Mel Edgar, program chairman, has announced that program details are "top-secret" but hints of "fun, fantasy and music."

Alice In Wonderland Will Be Theme of Fashion Show

Whimsical painted characters from Alice in Wonderland will set the theme for the sixth annual fashion show luncheon of the Flicker Unit of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center on February 27 at Castlewood Country Club.

Traditionally the first fund raising affair of the unit, the show will bring more than seven hundred women from the Bay Area to view fashions designed for every occasion, including sports and ski togs.

Mrs. Robert Schroeder, general chairman and president, announced that Phil Canville, Walnut Creek jeweler and commentator, will preside as master of ceremonies and musicians from Sherman Clay will provide background music for the show.

To lend enchantment to the occasion, Mrs. Clayton Southard, decorations chairman, has arranged for "Alice" herself to precede the fashions with an original dance by little Bobbi McCauley of Walnut Creek and young Linda Gearhart of Orinda, as the March Hare, will be on hand to keep the show on time.

Smart styles from JoAnn's and Sports and Games of Walnut Creek will be modeled by members of other units of the Therapy Center under the direction of Mrs. Lloyd Smith. Models will include the Mesdames: Dwight Dickinson (Tanager); Oliver Fenstermacher (Wrens); Hal Jensen (Larks); George Landwehr (Linnet Jrs.); Carl Marino (Cardinals); William McGuire (Towhees); Robert Patrick (Flickers); N. J. Parker (Orioles); Vance Perry (Flamingos); Robert Simpson (Hummingbirds); King Tolles (Robins); E. A. Wilson (Quails); Jack Wolverton (Linnet Jrs.); Ridgeway Woodburn (Mary Doyle). The Jr. Unit of Flickers, the Doves, will be represented by Miss Raylene Hermann and young Mike Mozzetti and Roxanne Smith will model children's fashions.

Other activities will be under the direction of Mrs. John Mozzetti, reservations; Mrs. David Kepler, program; Mrs. J. Kuhl, favors; Mrs. William Brandt, special events; Mrs. M. DeBisschop, door prizes; and Mrs. Jack Gordon, publicity, reminds the public that tickets may be obtained from individual members of the unit or by calling Mrs. Carl DeVito, ticket chairman at YE 5-4667.

Proceeds from the affair will benefit the rehabilitation and therapy program of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

Community Service Has Long Been Her Forte

Mrs. Harmon Howard Tells How to Be a Volunteer

By JEAN JERNIGAN

Community service was traditional with her husband's family, so Mrs. Harmon K. Howard plunged blithely into the whirl soon after her marriage.

She said, "Somehow I don't remember doing much before my marriage, but one just isn't part of the Howard Clan without being active." The Howards are one of the pioneer families of Walnut Creek.

We asked Mrs. Howard what she would suggest for young women new in the area, who are eager to share their time doing volunteer work, but as strangers hesitate to step forward.

"They should call or visit the Volunteer Bureau," she replied, "where the fine personnel have their fingers on all that's going on." The staff knows what activities have an open membership, and which ones are invitational. They will assist a volunteer to find work that is personally rewarding to her, as well as to suit her particular interests or talents.

The Volunteer Bureau is located at 2030 N. Main Street, Walnut Creek, and is county wide in service.

As a member of the Board of John Muir Memorial Hospital and chairman of the women's activities, Mrs. Howard has a special interest in this organization. She said, "The Sierra Guild has an open membership and anyone interested in joining the guild may call Mrs. John Farley or the headquarters office of John Muir Memorial Hospital."

The Howard home at 2373 Walnut Boulevard has been the scene of many a meeting, for Mrs. Howard is always willing to open her home for one of the many groups she serves.

"We love to entertain," she said, "but somehow we just don't get around to doing much social entertaining for we have so many meetings." Her husband is as active in the male world as she is in the women's world.

She has been a member of the Walnut Branch of the Children's Home Society for 12 years, is vice chairman of the Community Welfare Council of Contra Costa County, ways and means chairman for the Walnut Creek School P.T.A., a member and past president and past vice president of the Oakland Junior League and serves on the Board of Directors of the Diablo Junior Museum where her special interest is the Nature Study program.

One of the unique periods of community service for Mrs. Howard was the time when she served on the Police Commission in Walnut Creek. She chuckled when she said, "As far as I know I was the first and only Lady Police Commissioner in Walnut Creek."

Her duties while serving as a member of the commission included a study of the department to insure the department's keeping pace with the rapidly growing city.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Howard are Stanford graduates, however they did not meet until both were graduated and visiting Mexico with their families. The Howards enjoy skiing as a family, usually going to Squaw Valley or Mt. Rose. They all ski, including six year old Les who learned to navigate the ski tow alone last year. Keith, 15 and Christy, 12, complete the family.

A cabin at Mt. Lassen is the family's usual vacation and weekend destination. Mrs. Howard said, "We are an outdoor family, and happy with almost any activity that we can enjoy together outdoors."

The Howards usually plan one trip each summer. Mrs. Howard has found her children "very adjustable and easy to travel with." Summer before last they visited Wyoming, Montana, and frequently drive down to Del Mar to visit her family.

Sponsored by the Lafayette Cooperative Nursery School, tickets for the reserved seat performance may be obtained at the door or at:

The foursome's first professional appearance was at the hungry I in San Francisco. Since that two-week stand they have appeared coast-to-coast at some of the nation's best known night spots—New York's Village Gate, Chicago's Black Orchid, the Desert Inn at Tucson and Hollywood's Interlude. In addition they have recorded several albums for Decca.

Highway Deaths Rise During '59

Traffic accidents on California's streets and highways took the lives of 3588 persons during 1959, an increase of 78 over the previous year.

California Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden, in announcing the official figures, added that the all-time record for fatalities in California is 3804 and was established in 1956.

"We deplore the fact that traffic fatalities, which had been on a downward trend since the 1956 peak, turned upward last year," he declared. "We are disappointed, even though fatalities rose only 2.2 per cent whereas the volume of traffic increased approximately 5 per cent."

Crittenden noted that deaths on suburban and rural roads which are under the patrol's jurisdiction totaled 2199 while the number of persons killed within incorporated cities totaled 1389. These figures represent increases of 22 and 56, respectively, over last year.

Veterans Benefits Excluded in State Federal Tax Form

Veterans and survivors figuring their 1959 State and Federal income tax reports need not count as income any payments they received for veterans benefits, it was pointed out today by Veterans Service Officer W. R. Smaker.

Such payments are wholly tax free, he said. Dividends which veterans received in 1959 on their GI insurance policies also are exempt from tax reports. Interest earned on such dividends left on deposit, however, is taxable.

The proceeds of a GI life insurance policy are tax-free, and so are these typical veterans benefits:

1—Education and training allowances for veterans of the Korean Conflict who are in school or training establishments under the Korea GI Bill, and allowances paid for schooling of "war orphans."

2—Subsistence payments made to disabled World War II and Korean Conflict veterans training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Acts.

3—Disability compensation and pension payments received by veterans for service-connected and non-service-connected disabilities.

4—Grants to seriously disabled veterans for homes designed for "wheel-chair living."

5—Grants for motor vehicles to veterans who lost their sight or lost the use of limbs.

6—Death benefits to families of deceased veterans. These include death compensation and pension, burial allowances, indemnity and all GI insurance payments.

7—World War I emergency officers' retirement pay. (On California tax returns, armed forces pay in excess of $1000 during the taxable year must be reported, including non-disability retirement pay).

County Veterans' Service Offices are located in the Courthouse, Martinez, and in Richmond.

February Ideal For Shade Trees

Gardeners—Check these items this week:

This is an ideal month to plant shade trees. Early planting gives you a head start by encouraging early root growth.

It's not too late to plant a cover for bulb beds. Annual Alyssum is quick and good at drawing attention from ripening foliage after the bloom is off the bulb.

Fuchsias bloom on new wood. The idea in pruning is to promote a good percentage of new, flower-bearing growth, so don't hesitate to prune hard.

An application of weed killer now will reduce competition when your lawn really gets serious about growing again.

Bloom time is a good time to move Camellias and Azaleas if they have to be moved.

Regulations Don't Hurt Parkway Tree Plantings

More often than not, the tree that goes in your parkway is not a tree of your choosing alone. City regulations often dictate that you consult your neighbors and that you all plant the same variety of tree or none at all.

Now, while free choice is well and good, such restrictions are not bad. Consider, if you would, what might happen if no regulations existed. You might plant a Flowering Plum or two in front of your own house. Your neighbor comes up with a Fruitless Mulberry and down the street are two Lombardy Poplars. Carry this to an extreme and you can see that some uniformity is needed.

HOW, THEN, to go about planting an unplanted street. The California Association of Nurserymen suggests that you drop in at a member nursery to get a list of possible trees to plant. Then put them up for a neighborhood vote. And if you have a personal favorite, no harm in beating the drum for it.

Some you would do well to consider for parkways are the Fruitless Mulberry, Camphor Tree, Sweet Gum, Bottle Tree, Modesto Ash and, of course, the showy flowering plums and cherries, where they are adapted.

When it comes to your own lawn, you do have something to say about what you plant in it—everything in fact. And here again the nearest C.A.N. member can set you up with a list of ideas.

THE IDEA BEHIND tree planting in a lawn is to exercise restraint. To remain at its best, the lawn should not have excessive shade or competition from outside tree roots. And then, you aren't planting this tree to hide your house, are you? Big front-lawn trees are only for birds unless you really need the shade.

Trees that enhance a lawn rather than encroach upon it, are the lovely European White Birch, Silk Tree, Sweet Gum, Maiden-hair Tree, the graceful Weeping Willow. If your taste runs to evergreens, try St. Mary Magnolia. It's a small replica of the larger Southern Magnolia, and we can't praise it too highly.

Diseased Fruits Cured Best by Pear Pest Pruning

Now is the time to control pear blight, a troublesome disease to orchardists and homeowners, reports Arthur L. Seeley, agricultural commissioner.

Inspection throughout the central portion of the county shows that many home plantings of pears and apples show considerable pear blight. Seeley states that the County Department of Agriculture requires that this disease be removed before the blossoms emerge in the spring.

The disease is easily recognized, says Seeley, by the fact that the diseased leaves remain on the trees long after all others have fallen. The dead leaves and twigs have the appearance of being burned by fire.

Best control, according to Seeley, is by pruning at least six inches below the diseased area and to disinfect the pruning shears with Lysol, one part to 10 parts water, after each cut.

Anyone wishing further information should contact the County Department of Agriculture, Buchanan Field, Mulberry 5-4115.

Builders Hear County Planning Talk by McBrien

Joseph P. McBrien, county administrator, addressed the membership of the Home Builders Association at their meeting last night at the Concord Inn, according to Bert E. Dawe, president of the association.

"The topic for the evening's program was 'County Government' involving a general description of county government services, organization and cost. Planning and building regulations were an especially interesting portion of the presentation," Dawe said.

"Richard Donovan, manager of Bank of America, Pleasant Hill, and this year's program chairman for the association, made the arrangements this highly interesting meeting," Dawe stated.

County Represented At Olympic Games

By KEN FRIDRICKS

The excitement is at a peak now as yesterday the Eighth Winter Games opened at Squaw Valley. After the arrival of the Olympic torch, balloons, pigeons, an orchestra and chorus, the torch was lit and the Games were opened.

The Games promise to be the best and most exciting Olympics ever staged, despite many setbacks as recent as last week when rain for a time threatened to ruin the facilities. Things are again in top shape on the slopes and in the valley, and competitors from 34 countries are more than satisfied with the conditions. YOU'VE SEEN THOSE five colorful Olympic circles many times, but do you know what they represent and stand for? The five circles represent the five continents participating in the games. The colors: red, blue, green, yellow and black, at least one of these colors appears in the flag of every country, sending competitors.

Many people from the county are having a direct connection with the Games in many different ways. The Howard Jones of Lafayette are official judges of some ice events. Mrs. Fisher of Orinda is the chaperone of the American figure skating team.

Dr. Peter Picard of Orinda is officiating and Hans Schnitzler, also of Orinda, will be welcoming the Norwegian athletes at the Norwegian House. These are just a few of the local people behind the scenes of the Olympics.

SPECTATORS FROM the area are too numerous to name individually, but a good percentage of the county's population will be visiting the valley during the next 10 days.

Metal skis are making their big debut into the world of skiing at Squaw Valley. Many racers who have previously turned their noses up at anything but those "good ol' boards," are going to be seen racing down the slopes on metal skis.

Anton Kastle, world famous ski manufacturer from Austria, is a recent visitor to Orinda, is overwhelmed at the percentage of racers using his skis that have been requesting the new Kastle Metal Ski.

IF YOU ARE PLANNING to drive to Squaw Valley, it would be a good idea to take along with you chains of course, blankets, thermos bottles filled with a hot liquid, a window scraper and a supply of "food to munch on."

Turning away from the Olympics, Guest Slalom's are being held weekly at Badger Pass, Dodge Ridge, the Powder Bowl, Lassen and Pedler Hill. At the last report, reservations at the south end of Lake Tahoe are many.

Russ Johnson of Orinda last weekend at Badger Pass took eighth in the downhill, and a fourth in the slalom. The next Far Western Ski Association race is scheduled for Reno Ski Bowl in March.

Sparta Whipped By Ram Matmen
The Pleasant Hill Rams beat the Pacifica High hoopers February 11 when they routed them in a league basketball game 47-26.

The Rams hit in the double figures in every quarter getting 12-12-13 and 10 in that order to Pacifica 6-7-4-9.

The Rams hit 19 of 57 shots from the field to 8x69 for the losers. From the free throw line Pleasant Hill made good on 9x17 to Pacifica 10x16. Terry Hughes hit for 11 points to top the Rams while teammate Byron Lenerose had 10 as did Pacifica's Richard La Pointe.

Rams Win Diablo Mat Tourney

CENTRAL CONTRA Costa's role in the opening of the Eighth Olympic Winter Games at Squaw Valley was fulfilled, in part, by John Thune, 17-year-old Miramonte senior, who was selected as one of the Olympic torchbearers. John carried the torch last Sunday from Soda Springs to Donner Summit. This photo was taken two years ago atop the Matterhorn, which the youth climbed with his father, John B. Thune, executive director of the Oakland YMCA.

Miramonte Drops 'Heartbreaker' To Hoop League Leading Knights

The league leading Las Lomas Knights won by a 58-47 score over the Miramonte Matadors last Tuesday afternoon but the final tally far from tells the true story of the basketball game.

In fact with less than four minutes in the game the Knights were on the short end of the count and only a truly great scoring finish pulled the game out for the Walnut Creek five.

Bob Nichols got seven of his games total of nine rebounds in the final quarter and teamed up with his brother Tom to score 17 between them in the final quarter 23 point spurge that changed what appeared to be a defeat into a victory.

The Knights started well enough as they took a 15-11 first quarter lead only to find themselves in "hot water" when the visitors outscored them 17-8 in the second quarter and took a 28-23 lead and the Mats hung on to make it a 41-35 third quarter advantage before getting snowed under in the final canto.

Miramonte hit for an excellent 48 per cent of their shots as they put 16 of 33 tries through the hoop while the Knights hit for 38 per cent but connected on 20 field goals in 53 tries.

The Knights hit for 18x36 (68 per cent) from the free throw line to Miramonte's 15x25 (60 per cent). Backboard control was an important factor and here the Knights were well out in front picking off 37 to 18 for Miramonte and that in itself probably gave the Knights the edge.

Miramonte Center, Jack Gilbert, wound up as the top scorer with 18 points (7FG - 4FT), while teammates Doug Hudson had 11 (4FG - 3FT) and Milt Howe had 10 (2FG - 6FT).

Bob Nichols with 11 (5FG - 1 FT) and Rene Brandol with 12

Moraga Lad Is Olympiad 'Fireman'

John Thune, 17-year-old Miramonte High School senior, had a rare experience last weekend—one which he'll remember the rest of his life.

John, who lives at 1035 Camino Pablo, Moraga, was selected as one of the 600 world youths to play a part in the carrying of the eternal Olympic torch to Squaw Valley, site of the Eighth Olympic Winter Games, which opened yesterday.

A member of the 3000-member Sierra Club, youngest member of the club's racing team and a skier since the age of three, young John carried the aluminum torch for a half mile from Soda Springs up Donner Pass Sunday morning.

He was selected for the honor by the Sierra Club and was required to carry the flame the entire route on skis.

John reported that the torch is about 30 inches long, with a large flame which smokes like a smudge pot and it has a wire protective cage around the flame.

The local youth said he started carrying the torch from Soda following a large and impressive morning ceremony there, and that people lined the route up the pass. The torch arrived at Squaw Valley Tuesday night.

According to young Thune, a Walt Disney helicopter hovered over the route nearly all the time, taking movies of the torch-carrying.

John is a member of the National Junior Ski Patrol and has patrolled Sierra snow areas, including Squaw Valley.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Thune, and has four sisters. His father, the executive director of the Oakland YMCA, is a famed mountain climber.

Miramonte recognized young Thune's honor with a special announcement over the school public address system Monday morning.

Meanwhile, the Games got under way yesterday amid fanfare and snow yesterday morning, and the $8 million Squaw Valley investment is in for 10 days of splendor, the likes of which Sierra ski areas have never seen before.

1923 Doble Displayed At Speed-O-Rama
Bernard Becker of Walnut Creek took part in the first annual Speed-O-Rama in the San Francisco Cow Palace Thursday through Sunday.

Becker placed his 1923 steam-powered Doble on display in the O-Rama show. The Doble is a large roadster weighing in at over 6000 pounds and boasts a wheelbase of 150 inches. The four-cylinder, double-acting, compound steam engine develops about 150 horsepower and can deliver 5000 pounds of torque from a s t e m pressure of 1000 pounds per square inch. Becker lives at 3241 Roger Avenue, Walnut Creek.

This car was on display with 100 other racing cars and boats. Mickey Thompson's Challenger I, America's fastest car, and Maverick, the unlimited hydroplane which won both the Gold and Silver Cups in 1959 were featured at the four-day show.

Thompson's car, built for the express purpose of capturing the United States John Cobb's 403 m.p.h. land speed record, reached 375 m.p.h. at Bonneville in October before bad weather prevented further runs. The car holds a world speed record, and is powered by four V-8 engines.

Maverick is the first boat in history to win both the Gold and Silver Cups in one year. Powered by a supercharged Allison aircraft engine, the hydroplane is capable of 180 m.p.h. speeds. It was brought to the Cow Palace from Lake Mead, Nevada.

Speed-O-Rama officials sponsored Northern California Championship Go-Kart races during the last two days of the show.

WHERE THE BUDGET WISE ECONOMIZE

Home Remodeling Ideas

By John Pearson

Get Started Remodeling the Garage

Many homes in our area are becoming too small for growing families. Most families are finding the need for additional space in the form of a rumpus room, a playroom for the children, or an extra bedroom. One logical place to turn is to the double garage, which you probably have half filled with junk and half taken up by the family auto.

In as much as your garage is already closed in with a floor, walls, and a roof, the job is 75% completed before you start. The first thing to do is to decide to what use you wish the garage put, and whether or not you want to make the entire garage, or a portion of it, into living quarters. In many instances half the garage can be made into a room, with the remainder being devoted to either garage, storage area, or home workshop.

The first step in a garage conversion is to sit down and draw out your proposed floor plan. This can be done on a plain piece of 8"x11 1/2" paper, but should be to a 1/4" scale, that is 3/4" equaling a foot. Using this preliminary plan, take it to Pearson Lumber Company and get your material estimate, thus giving you the approximate cost of the job. You will have to obtain a building permit from either Contra Costa County, or your local city building department. This permit is readily obtainable, providing you have a set of legible plans, or plain paper, drawn to scale, in duplicate, showing a floor plan, an elevation, a framing detail, and a plot plan. Again, Pearson Lumber will be glad to help you or can put you in touch with a professional draftsman.

Assuming you have an average double garage and desire to make it into a rumpus room. You would have to remove the garage door and install an aluminum sliding sash in the opening, frame the balance of the wall in, cover with stucco, sheetrock the walls and ceilings, put asphalt tile on the floor, install a wall heater, trim and paint the walls and ceiling, do the necessary wiring.

This could be accomplished for approximately $300.00. Excellent financing is available where you pay nothing down and can take up to three years to pay for it.

Why not call PEARSON LUMBER COMPANY, YE 5-5621, and find out how much your particular Garage Remodeling job would cost. There will be no obligation.

Weight-ins are scheduled for the hours between 7:30 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. for the contestants who will come from as far north as Novato and as far south as Gilroy.

More than 50 schools are entered and besides titles the stakes will be entry in the state meet to be held at the University of California February 27. The first four places in each of the 12 weight divisions ranging from 103 pounds through heavyweight will qualify for the state meet.

Bouts are scheduled to get under way at 11 a.m. with preliminary bouts taking place on five mats.

Finals will take place at 7:30 p.m. in both championship and consolation brackets according to Chairman Ernest Ceccacci.

This is the third annual north coast meet and Castro Valley will be the defending champions having won the first two meets.

Tomorrow's tournament looks to be a battle between the Pleasant Hill Rams and Hayward High who both outdistanced the field in their respective league meets Saturday and qualified seven each for the big one tomorrow.

The Rams rate the favorite spot having won the Bay Area Invitational held earlier in the season at Hayward High School.

Acalanes, Knights Go Tonight in Crucial

By SOSS OPPLER

Tonight finds the Acalanes Dons and Las Lomas Knights in the big one as far as Foothill Division standings in basketball are concerned.

The game to be played at the Del Valle High gym finds the Bees opening at 7 p.m. and it's a must for the Don Babes if they are to stay in title contention with the Miramonte Matadors who at present are a game in front of the pack.

Soss Oppler predicts a Don win here but it won't be easy as the two fives have split to date.

In the varsity game the two teams have also split and the Knights are presently out in front and a win tonight would give them a firm lead in the pennant race that is rapidly drawing to a close.

The Dons have been in and out and while Las Lomas has had their bad moments they have been the league's tops in scoring by a good margin and have been tough on the boards which for the most part has resulted in ball control. Both clubs should be up for this one but the only thing certain is that it will be played before a packed gym.

It's out on the limb, but the score will be Las Lomas 41, Acalanes 39.

The Pleasant Hill Rams play at home tonight and play the Clayton Valley Eagles currently tied for first place with Pittsburg.

It's the Eagles here by a 54-41 score but the Rams bounce back next Tuesday to batter Antioch at Antioch, 47-35.

Piedmont plays tonight at San Ramon and it's a win for the Alameda County Highlanders as they take a 51-41 decision.

Miramonte draws the bye tonight but Tuesday posts a win over Piedmont as they wind up in third place in league standings while Las Lomas wraps up San Ramon at Danville with a 59-39 win.

The North Coast Section Wrestling meet is set for Mt. Diablo High tomorrow and it looks to be a battle between the Pleasant Hill Rams and Hayward High for top honors. The Rams have been coming through in the close ones and Soss Oppler predicts they will wind up first with Hayward High a close second.

Piedmont Clan Edged by Dons on Hardwoods 43-36

The Acalanes Dons edged the Piedmont Clan the hard way February 11 when they came from behind to post a 43-36 win.

The Dons were cold in the first half as the clan, thanks to Dave Shaw's 8 points in the first quarter and Steve Hogan's six in the second period shot them to a 14-11 first quarter lead and a 25-18 halftime advantage.

The Dons outscored the Piedmont club 13-6 in the third quarter to knot the count at 31 all and then put the lid on defensively in the final frame as they held Piedmont to 5 points while posting 12 of their own to notch the win and keep them close on the heels of the league leading Las Lomas Knights.

Shaw took individual game scoring honors with 15 points while the Don's Mel Simpson and Paul Colin had 13 apiece.

The Acalanes Bees won the opener as they swept to a 43-22 win.

Acalanes had a scant 23-22 advantage in rebounds and hit on 17 of 41 field goal tries to 15x39 for Piedmont. The Dons hit for 8x15 from the free throw line to 6x11 for the Clan.

Acalanes Hoopmen Take League Pair Over San Ramon

The Acalanes Dons took a pair of league wins over the visiting San Ramon Wolves Tuesday afternoon as the varsity won 36-22 while the Bees copped the opener 48-29.

The varsity game was low scoring all the way as both clubs failed to hit the hoop with any consistency. It was Acalanes 8-5 at the quarter and 15-11 at the half.

The Dons did hit in double figures in the third and fourth quarters getting 10 and 11 points in that order while San Ramon hit for 4 and 7.

Wayne Forsell was the Wolves top scorer with 13 points which was the games best individual effort while Paul Colin headed the Dons with 11.

In the Bee games the Don Babes were ahead 27-15 at the half and had things well in hand all the way as Jim Hammett scored 10 points, John Jones 8, Jim Rinne 8 and Gary Miller 7.

Don Wrestlers Dump CV Eagles

The Acalanes wrestlers wound up their dual meets for the season February 10 with a 24-16 win over the Clayton Valley Eagles.

The meet held at Clayton Valley found Acalanes getting a pair of draws while winning six matches to the Eagles four.

Winners for the Dons were Doug Southworth in the 112 pound class, Rick Cherry at 127, Jerry MacPhearson, 138, Lee Eglund, 154, and Denny Toll who got the meet's only fall in the heavyweight division. Mark Mohler at 133 and Gilmore Van Stone at 191 wrestled draws.

Rams Racked By Pitt Five

The Pittsburg hoop squad was "red hot" Tuesday afternoon as five players hit in the double digits to roll up a 73-37 win over the Pleasant Hill Rams.

The game, played at the Steel City, found the two clubs playing an even seven ball game with the Pirates hitting a pair of buckets in the closing 30 seconds to take a 17-14 first quarter lead.

From then out it was Pittsburg all the way as they took a commanding 38-18 half time lead and made it 56-24 at the end of the third quarter.

Pitt insured the win as they controlled the boards with a game total of 41 rebounds to the Rams 29 plus the fact they hit a sizzling 48 per cent as they made 16 of 33 shots in the first half.

Willie Coston was Pitt's top scorer with 15 points to 12 for Ivy Lee, 11 for Willie Mickey, 10 for Ramey Smith and 10 for Bob Griffith.

The Rams best in the scoring column were Dick Doyle and Bill Atkinson, who bagged 7 points apiece.

In the Bee game the Pirates took a 21-8 half time lead and went on to score a 35-18 win.

Ken Friedenback with 7 was top scorer for Pleasant Hill.

San Ramon Quint Pulls Upset Win Over Miramonte

The San Ramon Wolves pulled an upset February 11 when they had a good night in the shooting department and came up with a 47-41 win over the Orinda Matadors.

The Wolves worked the ball well and while they didn't shoot often hit for a game average of 51 per cent as they netted 17 of 33 tries.

Miramonte hit on 18 of 42 field goals for a good 42 per cent but lost out on the free throw line as San Ramon hit 13x24 while Miramonte connected on but 5x24.

San Ramon took a 11-7 first quarter lead and stayed out in front 25-20 at the half and 36-33 at the wind-up of the third quarter. Top point getters were San Ramon's Wayne Forsell with 21 and Miramonte's Jack Gilbert with 17.

On the Bee game, the league leading Matadors stayed out in front with a 42-30 win as Brad Peters 14 points and Doug Scarff 11 aided the winning game.

Charles Bogue's 10 topped the San Ramon team as he was the only one to hit in double figures.

Danville Hoop League Enters Fourth Go-Round

Danville Basketball League is in its fourth week of play with the Diamond Building Materials and Aerojet No. 2 playing last night.

Diamond, the Valley Pioneer and the Shoe Stable five went into the week all tied for first place. Diamond and Pioneer had a 2 and 0 record, while the Shoe Stable, who got a late start, won their opener and thus had a 1 and 0 record.

A game between Diamond and Pioneer, which was scheduled to break the tie, was postponed. The San Ramon high school gym, where all games are played, was being used by the high school the night of the scheduled game. The two teams will meet Wednesday at 7 p.m., to play off this postponed game.

Nike Base defeated Aerojet No. 2, 32-12, and the Shoe Stable won over Aerojet No. 1, 46-12, in the only two games last week.

Although playing a better ball control game, the Aerojets No. 2 were cold from the floor. Larry Ficus and John Conlon each scored 4 points for high point honors. Bill Hastings with 12 was high for the winners.

In the Aerojet No. 1-Shoe Stable game, Bill Lloyd of the missile-makers and Jim Black of John May's Shoe Stable battled for high point honors with 21 apiece.

Child Won't Fear Dentist If Visits Start Early

(This is one of a series of articles published in cooperation with the Contra Costa Dental Society, observing National Children's Dental Health Week, recently concluded.)

A visit to the dentist should be viewed as a social call on a friend.

A child's first visit should take place not later than the age of three whether or not he appears to require attention.

THE INITIAL visit can serve as the occasion for the pair to become friends. In addition, the dentist can give the child a tour of his office as well as reinforce the education in proper dental care that has been started at home by the parents.

The dentist will make sure his young visitor has a start in learning the proper technique of brushing. He also will explain the need for regular visits to the dentist as well as the importance of a balanced diet.

Dentists find that children who start early to observe the principles of proper dental care will maintain the practice as they grow older.

It also has been determined that the problem child in the dental office is one who has had no home training and whose first dental visit is postponed until he is from six to 12 years old.

PARENTS SHOULD start preparing their children for the first visit to the dentist long in advance of the event so that they are ready psychologically.

There should be no intimidation that the visit is anything more than a call on a friend who is surrounded by a lot of fascinating gadgets.

Dentists agree on the importance of giving primary teeth as careful treatments as permanent teeth receive. The notion that primary teeth are not important has been discredited.

Premature loss of a first tooth. If a space is blocked, the may result in drifting of other permanent tooth may not have room to erupt in its proper place and the teeth will be forced out of alignment.

WHEN CERTAIN primary teeth are lost, dentists sometimes recommend use of a space maintainer to prevent other teeth from moving into the vacant space. If dental treatment is required on the first visit, the child will face the prospect of virtually no discomfort — thanks to the development of new techniques, as well as equipment, in the care of teeth.

The dentist then is truly the child's friend. The earlier this lesson is learned, the earlier the child will comprehend the vital contribution the dentist makes to a lifetime of healthy teeth.

Bridge, Anyone?

Intermediate bridge playing instruction is available each Monday evening at the Pleasant Hill Recreation Center, Pleasant Hill Road and Oak Park Boulevard. The instructional play is open for anyone to participate one or more evenings. Further information may be secured by phoning the instructor, Mrs. Lota Frahm, YE 4-0472 or the Pleasant Hill Recreation District office.

Women Voters to Hold State Finance Sessions

California State finance will be discussed by the Concord-Diablo Valley League of Women Voters this month.

Researchers are Mrs. E. C. Litzinger, chairman, and by Mesdames Byron Hubbard, David Mox, Robert Karplus and Frank Davis. The discussions will be focused on "Where the money comes from; where the money goes."

"League work aims at two goals in this field," said Mrs. Litzinger. "First to help each league member formulate standards for voting on matters involving finance, and second, to pinpoint areas where the league as a whole can act effectively on finance matters."

The Tuesday evening study unit will meet next Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Mrs. Litzinger's home, 209 Patterson Boulevard, Pleasant Hill. The Wednesday group will meet next Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. A. H. Hammonds, 2346 Warren Road, Walnut Creek.

An afternoon group will gather at the home of Mrs. Owen Nelson, Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at 122 Alamos Drive, Danville. Interested women in the area are invited to attend a unit, or to phone membership chairman Mrs. James Keating.

The League of Women Voters makes studies of local, state or national and international problems, and provides speakers to interested local organizations on studies which have been completed.

Mrs. Litzinger said speakers are available on the California Constitution and problems of revision.

"If your organization is looking for a capable speaker," she said, "We can certainly provide some interesting information on an urgent problem — the California Constitution was written in 1879 and has become outmoded and unwieldy."

The league has completed a two year study on this problem. Local women who have worked on the study include:

Mesdames John Selley, Walnut

Creek; Owen Nelson, Danville; James Keating and Andrew Hartenov, Orinda; Eugene Lauer, Alamo; Mel Nielsen, Pleasant Hill; J. C. Snook, Walnut Creek, and Richard Shaller and L. M. Proctor, Concord.

Eye-Testing For Kids Is Established

Vision screening of young school children using a new technique originated in Contra Costa County will progress from an experiment to a full-fledged service in 1960-61, county school officials report.

Dr. Harold Weatherbe, administrative assistant, said the Contra Costa County School Department will make available to school districts next year eye screening such as has been conducted this year for approximately 13,500 children.

This year's screening occurred in all school districts with elementary grades, at a total cost to the county department of $7,947, or about 59 cent per child, including the cost of equipment.

UNDER THE same circumstances we could test for 55 cents per child next year. This would be slightly higher than our actual costs and would set up a sinking fund for equipment replacement, said Weatherbe.

School districts so desiring may apply for the service.

Dr. Weatherbe reported that 15 to 18 per cent of the first graders tested were referred for a complete eye examination. Approximately one per cent wore glasses and were not tested.

In addition, the Modified Clinical Technique, as the test is known, was administered to kindergarten pupils in some districts and to new students and other students who seemed to have vision trouble.

THE MCT TEST was originated in a pilot study undertaken jointly in the Orinda Union School District by the county school department, the Contra Costa County Health Department and the schools of optometry and ophthalmology of Stanford University and the University of California, respectively.

The test is administered by an optometrist or ophthalmologist, in contrast to other tests commonly administered by a teacher or nurse. Vision screening of school children is required by state law.

Weatherbe commented that a check will be made with the private eye specialists to whom children are taken by their parents to determine if the MCT is as effective in identifying vision defects as the preliminary study indicated.

Other tests, he explained, tend to miss vision defects or unnecessarily refer children for complete examinations.

Safe, Effective Is Panel View of Fluoridation

Fluoridation is safe, effective, legal, economical and routine as a water plant procedure, according to a panel of speakers at the fourth Annual Dental Health Workshop of Contra Costa County held at Masonic Hall, Walnut Creek, February 8.

Dr. Karl H. Koenig, Richmond dentist and representative of the Contra Costa Dental Society, said that "The overwhelming majority of dentists want fluoridation because it is the one certain way to prevent dental decay."

He called attention to the dental problem in Contra Costa County, noting that extensive surveys by the County Health Department had revealed that "Forty per cent of the school-age children are in urgent need of dental care; 20 per cent have never been to a dentist; less than half of the cavities are filled; 40-50 per cent of the children have orthodontic problems, a large proportion of which is due to the premature loss of teeth because of untreated decay."

HE SAID that "In one school of over 500 children, 60 per cent had never been to a dentist." He emphasized that prevention of dental decay was the only way to maintain the high standards of dental care in the United States in the presence of the population explosion and the intensifying dental manpower shortage.

Dr. Sheldon Margen, internist and University of California research worker in metabolic and biochemical problems, said, "It is important to know that fluoride is a natural element."

"We have extensive knowledge about the fluorides and what happens with different amounts. In the amount recommended for public water supplies fluoride should be considered an essential trace element with a very wide margin of safety."

DR. MARGEN said the "body mechanism handles fluoride quite satisfactorily in health and disease."

"High intakes of water are of no concern, because of the balance between intake and output," he said.

Speaking on the legality of fluoridation in California, District Attorney John A. Nejedly pointed out that in California the legislature has specifically authorized the State Board of Health and the State Department of Public Health to set up standards for the control of water supplies.

Nejedly noted that court decisions have upheld the right of a municipality to fluoridate its water supply as provided by the Health and Safety Code.

HE POINTED out that fluoridation of the public water supply did not violate the first, 10th or 14th amendments.

Plant manager Oliver S. Turpin noted that the Gregory Gardens County Water District has been fluoridating its water since February, 1955.

He emphasized that "fluoridation is just another one of the routine procedures. There has been no corrosion of any part of the system, nor any buildup of fluorides."

"The feeding mechanism is precisely calibrated, automatically controlled, and there is no chance of any overfluoridation."

He invited members of the audience to arrange to visit the plant, suggesting groups of not more than 20 people at a time.

PHIL MINER, Antioch city manager, described how fluoridation developed at Antioch. He noted that the matter was reviewed by the council early in 1951, leading to the decision to fluoridate. The feeder was purchased in January of 1952 and fluoridation got under way during August, 1952.

Minner noted that five other chemicals are used at Antioch in preparing the water for domestic use. These include chlorine, carbon, lime, copper sulfate and aluminum sulfate.

He stated they were very pleased that studies of the County Health Department had shown a 48 per cent reduction in decay of the permanent teeth of the 6 to 8 year old children who had lived all their lives in Antioch.

"It's good business to add one chemical to kill germs," said Minner, adding "and it's good business, too, to add another chemical to set up a defense against dental decay."

MRS. CLAUDE P. Warden, dental health chairman of the 32nd District of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, said, "Many children are suffering unnecessary dental decay and that children with particularly poor teeth are subject to ridicule by other children."

"Moderation in the use of sweets and brushing right after eating are good practices, but in our culture and in many others, it is difficult to follow out because of dotting grandparents and well-intentioned neighbors," she said.

Speaking as a housewife, Mrs. Warden said that "the effectiveness, safety, feasibility and econ-

EBMUD Water, Bonds, And Talk of Money . . .

By BILL HAYWARD

HOMESTEAD, WALNUT BOULEVARD, INDIAN VALLEY, NORLYN, BRADLEY and GREENWAY AREAS . . . ask for East Bay Water. Petitions and formal requests to the EBMUD were given consideration recently at a meeting of residents from each of the above neighborhoods.

McGuire Acres, Hanson Lane and Garland Acres also want to be annexed to the water district. According to Mr. H. B. Fisher, district staff aid, and a customer relations expert, I might add . . . explained the possibilities of getting the wonderful nectar to the above mentioned districts.

It will take about 2 years to accomplish all of the necessary factors to bring the water to the newly annexed neighborhoods. The costs will run to a total of about $150,000.— for the installation of mains and to acquire the old California Water Systems pipelines.

There are about 350 parcels of land in the new area which will mean that each home or lot owner will have to pay about $450.— for their share of the cost of such an installation.

The funds would come from a Bond issue that will be repaid over a 30 year period. All in all the plan will be a great saving for all of the residents in the area. The quality of the water is also a factor as East Bay Water is almost zero in hardness and as you know comes from the high Sierra snow capped peaks and is brought through covered aqueduct all the way to Lafayette and Berkeley. Boundary plans are now being formulated to get this program off the ground in a hurry.

Phil Gustafson, Business Manager of the Lafayette Water office will help along with John McBride of the Oakland District office.

Ferris Farnsworth of Greenway was elected Chairman of the hastily formed water district Group and Mrs. Patti Melusky of Karen Court is the secretary. Action and results are promised by the organization committee in hopes that the water will come to the area in less than 2 years.

ACCORDING TO DUN AND BRADSTREET . . . Contra Costa County business is in general UP . . . 12 per cent for 1959 . . . Lafayette is up . . . 19.2 per cent Walnut Creek is up . . . 29.9 per cent Concord is up . . . a big 64.8 per cent Orinda is up a whopping 37.9 per cent . . . the freeways certainly have not bothered Lafayette and Orinda by the Bypass . . . and of all the big "little Cities" . . . Danville's business is UP a tremendous 125 per cent . . . WOW . . . Richmond was down a bit as was Crockett and Rodeo. ON THE WHOLE . . . I again say the SIXTIES will be the greatest.

MONEY MONEY AND MORE MONEY . . . Bank of California some 5 years ago bought out the Bank of Martinez . . . they now have permits to establish banks in Pleasant Hill and Danville . . . how about that? . . . I must never underestimate the need of money storage out here in Contra Costa County.

INCIDENTALLY . . . the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce is in new quarters at 1359 Locust St. just almost across the street from the SUN office . . . Manager and Public Relations Specialist. Bill Francis is pleased with the new spot. In fact he tells me that it is almost too quiet without all the big trucks going by shifting gears and blowing smog in all directions. Are you going to the Chamber Installation Saturday?

omy of fluoridation has been demonstrated over and over again." Moderator for the panel discussion was Dr. Zachary M. Stadt, assistant health officer of the County Health Department.

Newcomers Grace Cast Of Dramateurs' 'Picnic'

Rehearsals for the Dramateurs performance of "Picnic," William Inge's award-winning play of a few seasons ago, are intensifying as the opening night of February 25 approaches.

The play will be put on for five consecutive weekends at the Lafayette Town Hall, the home of the local little theater group.

DIRECTED BY Carl Rasmussen, the cast combines some newcomers to the group as well as veterans of many past performances in Dramateurs' plays. Among those making debuts with the Dramateurs will be George Everett, who plays the part of Hal Carter, the muscular young man whose coming to the town creates drama and comedy in the lives of most of the other characters. George has been an instructor for the American Health Studios and was a runner-up in the "Mr. California" contest.

Though a newcomer to a major production for the Dramateurs, Vickie West, who plays the feminine lead, Madge Owens, has had considerable experience in drama as a student at Diablo Valley College and San Francisco State College.

WHILE AT THE former college, she played the title role in "Sabrina Fair," and had leading roles in "The Petrified Forest" and "Night Must Fall."

She took part in productions while attending San Francisco State, and has appeared before the Dramateurs members in a Workshop production while she was still a student at Mt. Diablo High School. Vickie was well known in Concord for her readings even before she returned there as a wife and mother.

Playing the part of the younger sister is Lurette Mattson, who is student in the Dramateurs' School of Dramatic Expression. This will be her first major role.

GRADUATING FROM backstage and technical work into good supporting roles are several new members.

Perry Palin of Lafayette plays the part of Alan, Madge's suitor, and George Meyer of Pleasant Hill takes the character part of Howard Bevans. Boyd Hunter, also a student at the Dramateurs' School, plays the part of "Bomber."

Lucy Ann Williams will also be making her debut on stage in this production in the part of Christine Schwoenwalder, although she has been well known for many backstage assignments in the past under the name of Lucy Ann Hupp. Her husband, Rolfe Williams, will be remembered as the leading man in "The Rivals" and as "Noah" in "The Rainmaker."

The "veterans" who will be taking part in "Picnic" are Tish Winkworth, as Rosemary, Wirtabel Harris as Helen Potts, Katey Genesey as Flo, mother of the girls, and Ethel Appel as Irma.

Artists Plan Gathering, Pot-Luck

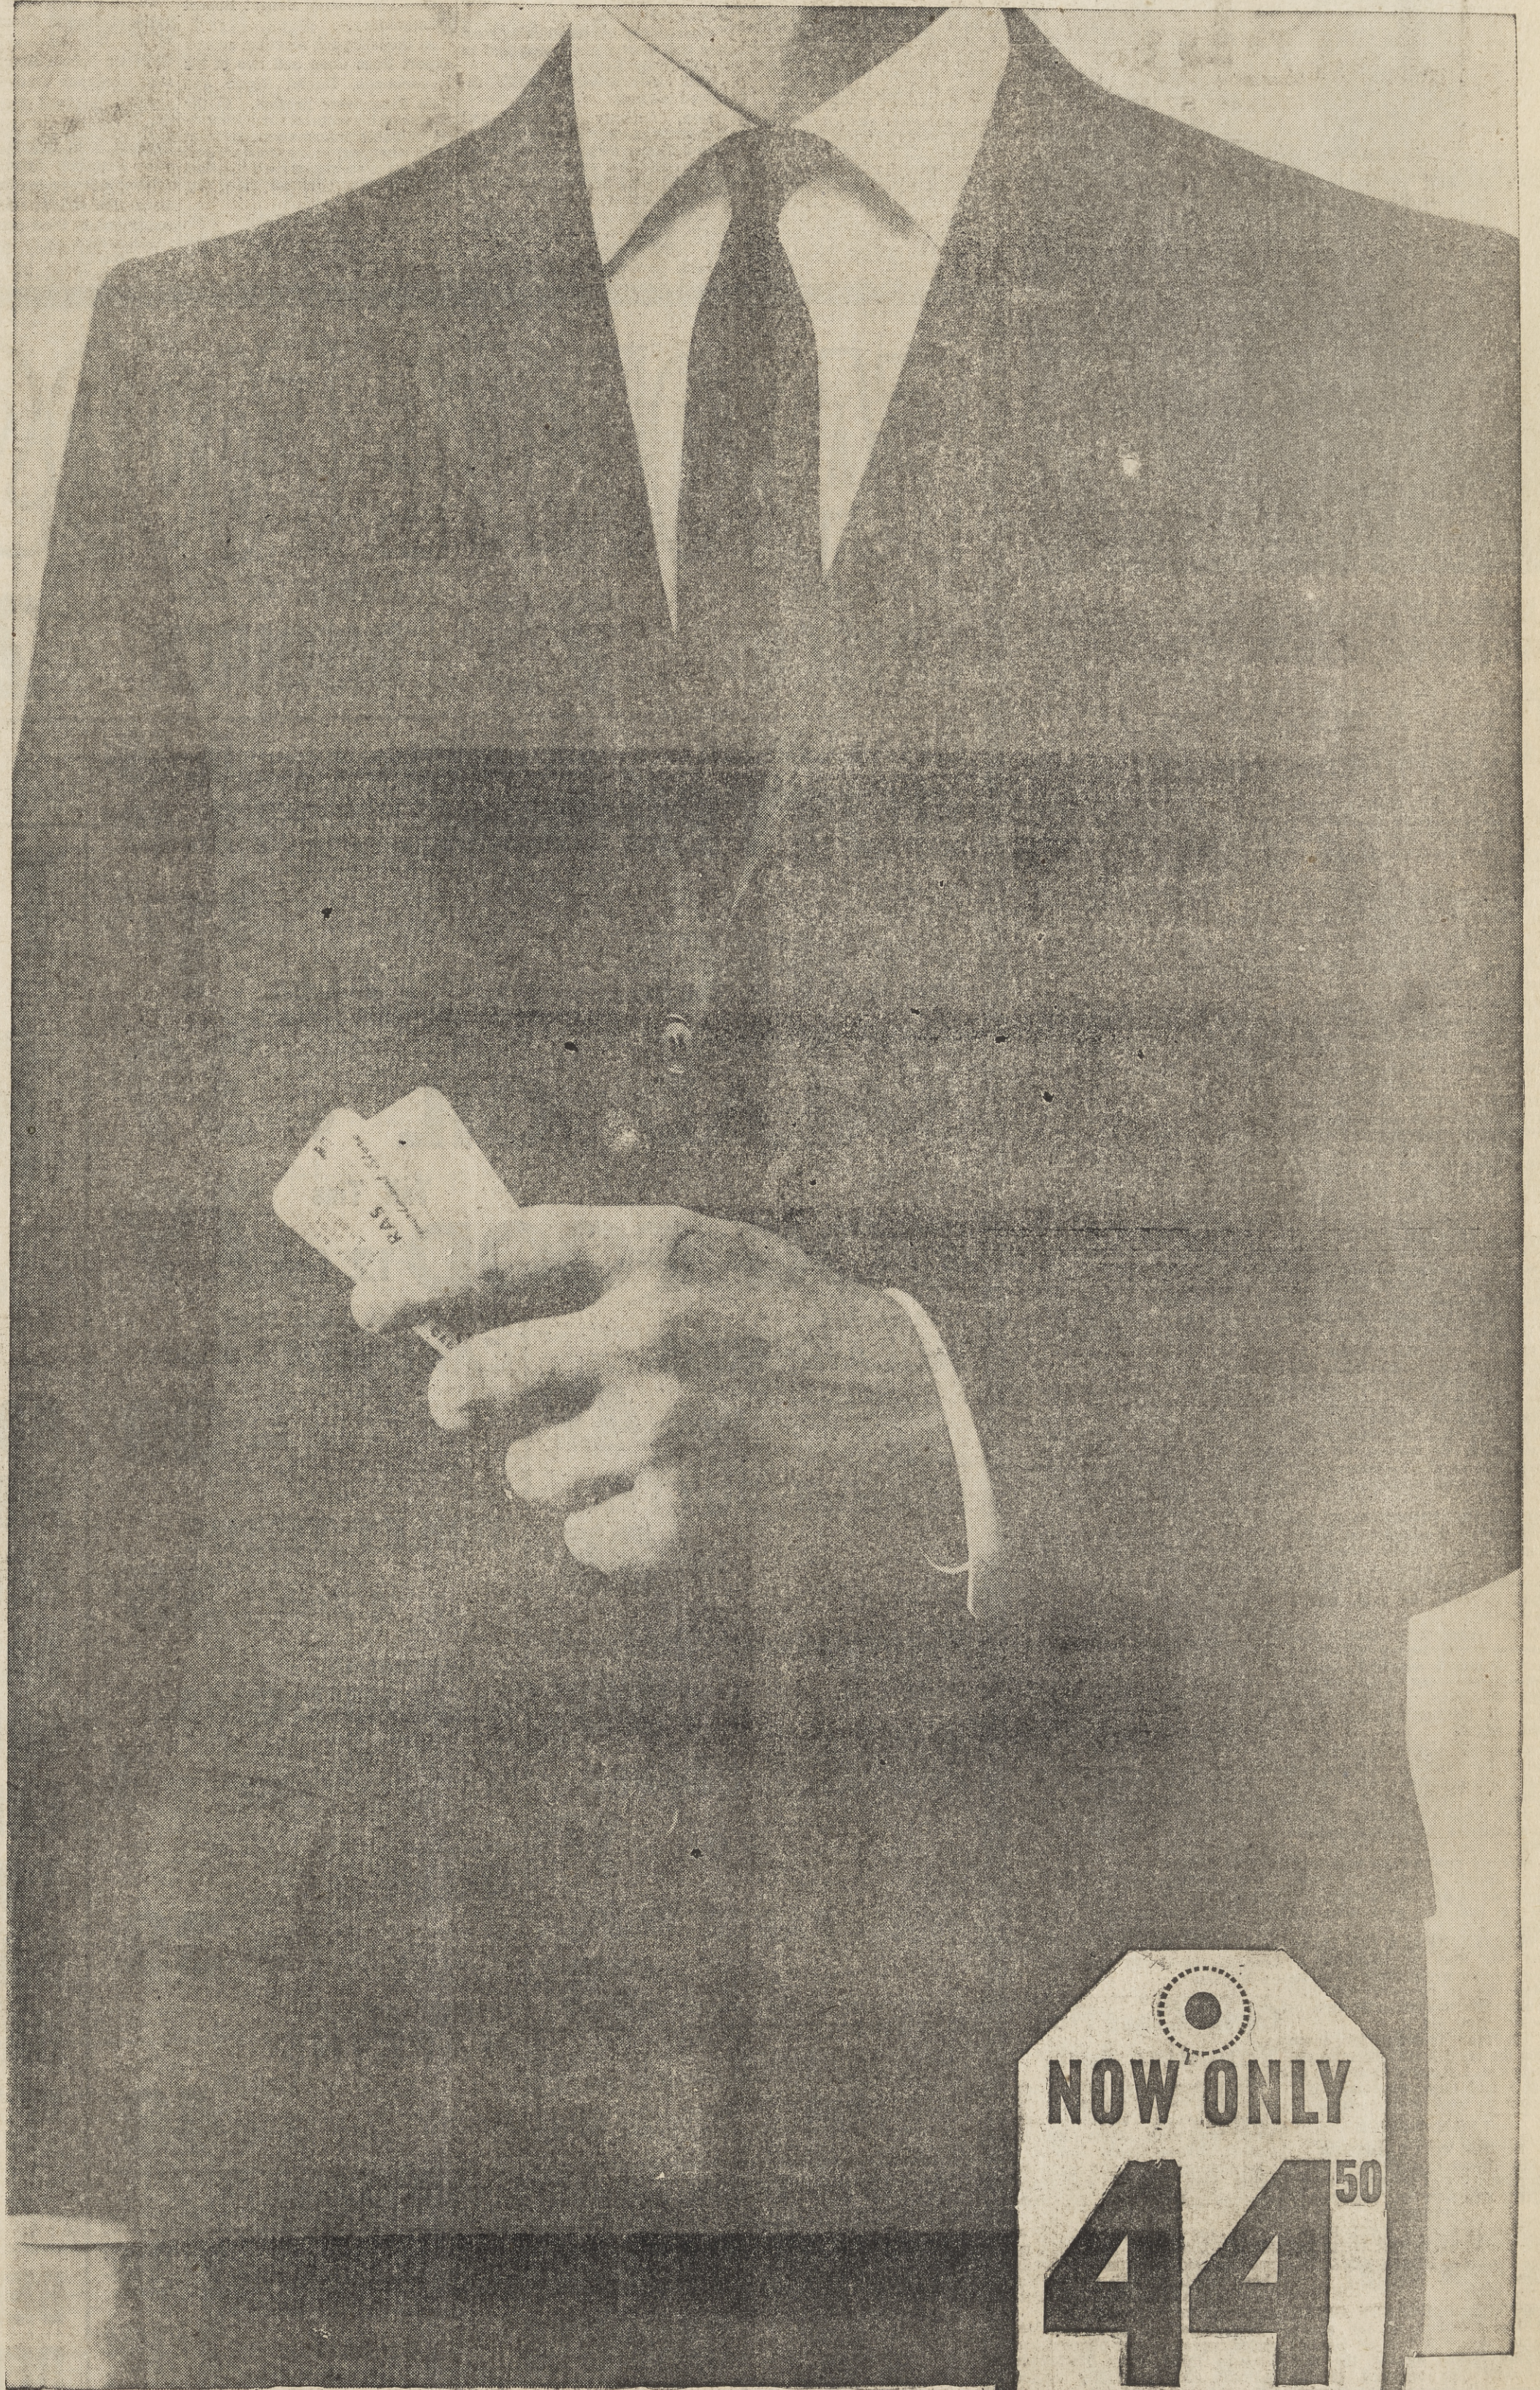

Diablo Art Association directors will be hosts to members and guests at a "Let's-Get-Together" potluck supper, Monday.

Membership Chairman Mrs. Chairmian Stapler sent out announcements asking members and guests to bring a choice of a hot dish, salad or cookies for four and their own cutlery.

Mrs. Coralyn Dodson of Walnut Creek has arranged a program which includes an informal discussion of the new point-four program for the year, and a mural painting marathon which promises to be highly entertaining.

The supper will begin at 7 p.m.

RELICS OF AFRICA are kept by John Blaker Herod of Walnut Creek, who gave up his variety store business to undertake layman missionary work on the Dark Continent. He plays tape recordings of local church music to the natives.

Travel Among Africans, Plays Hillcrest Music

A Walnut Creek layman turned the tables on a group of ministers when he urged them to support their own program of foreign missions.

But this seemed only natural to John Blaker Herod, of 135 Pleasant Valley Drive, who sold his San Francisco variety store last summer so he could inspect Congregational Christian Mission work in Africa.

He described what he saw to several hundred ministers and lay leaders from all over the country attending the recent winter meeting of the Congregational Christian churches.

HEROD SPENT last October and November in Rhodesia and the Union of South Africa visiting mission schools, clinics and hospitals sponsored by the denomination's overseas agency, the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions.

He saw the plight of the African industrial worker around Johannesburg, the progress being made at the teacher training and nursing schools and work being done in out-churches and out-schools in the bush country.

These he reproduced for the church leaders with slides and tape recordings as well as his own comments.

The morning lecture was a preview of the "laymen's view" of Africa that he will soon be giving to church groups and conferences in various parts of the country.

HEROD UNDERTOOK his unique African assignment at the request of the Mission Council of the Congregational Christian Churches. The thing that helped bring it about, he said, was a toothache!

It so happened the family dentist was Dr. Denny Mallory, a personal friend, who had recently returned after setting up a dental clinic in Africa, another Congregational Christian churches overseas project.

While he poked the aching molar, Dr. Mallory said he had heard of a possible opening for a layman to undertake a special mission project and didn't Herod want to go to the foreign mission field?

"When I realized he was serious," Herod recalled, "I said, 'Look here I have a business—I'll have to talk this over with my wife.'"

SHORTLY AFTER this Herod was told that the building in which his variety store was located was to be converted into a motel. He was given 30 days to vacate. That did it.

"I'd been thinking for some time the store hadn't become the challenge I thought it would be and I had been wondering if I should go back into teaching. It was decided."

Blue-Gold Dinner Held By Cub Pack, Fathers

Cubs of Pack 207 entertained their Dads at their annual Blue and Gold dinner held at Glorietta School last week.

Charles Ivy led a rollicking song fest and everyone participated in the O'Grady Drill fun.

THE FOLLOWING BOYS received awards:
Den, Anthony Thurston and Randy Andada, silver arrows; Den 5, Steve Kirkland, two silver arrows and one gold arrow, Tommy May, gold arrow; Den 8, Roy Bowers, silver; Den 9, Mark Knudsen, two year star, Rodney Price, gold arrow and Tim Mueller, silver arrow.

Jack Bowers, Dwight Sigworth and Andy Cayting were promoted to Webelos.

Den 1 welcomed Bobcat Robert Montgomery.

At the last pack meeting, search expert Russ Cone and two of his bloodhounds, Daniel Boone and Calo King, were present. In the course of his lecture, Cone imparted valuable information on what to do when lost in the woods. Each Cub was presented a card imprinted with five cardinal rules for survival.

Former Webelos Robert Bardell, Ross Costa, David Denning and Carl Van Dyke have joined Boy Scout Troop 200.

Girl Scouts Meet Exchange Pupils

To tie in with Girl Scout International Month, Glorietta Troops 96, 97, 182, 292 and 381 met at Glorietta School Monday with foreign exchange students.

These included Enrique Lopez-Bruno from Spain and Sai Widiati Saebani from Indonesia, who are now attending Miramonte High School, and who led an interesting discussion on customs and living conditions in their native lands.

A flag ceremony, led by W. J. Abrie of Troop 96, opened the

The meeting was arranged through Dr. Herbert R. Packard of Walnut Creek, member of the education committee of the Contra Costa branch of the American Cancer Society. It was held at 7 p.m. at Mike Lynn's Restaurant, in Orinda.

Dr. Robert J. Schweitzer of Oakland lectured on the importance of patients' visiting their dentist for periodic examination of the oral cavity for the detection of lesions which may become malignant.

In addition to Dr. Schweitzer's lecture, an American Cancer Society film on early diagnosis of oral cancer will be shown and the latest printed literature from the society will be distributed to the more than 100 dentists expected to attend.

Grodins of California Plans Major Expansion

Grodins of California, a chain of men's and boy's wear stores, plans a mammoth expansion program calling for the addition of 20 stores to its present five by 1965, stated Arnold Michaels, president, today. He further expects to have a total of 44 units operating by 1970.

A key of the entire expansion will be a move into downtown San Francisco, marking the first invasion in modern retail history of an East Bay firm to the San Francisco side.

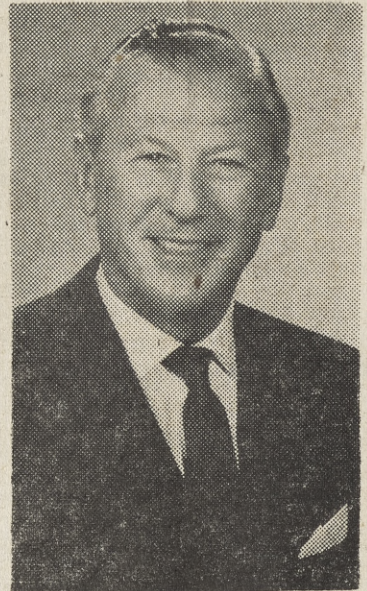

Michaels stated that three locations are presently under consideration, and it is expected that negotiations for the selected site will be finalized in sufficient time to permit opening prior to the end of 1960.

He further stated that Grodins sales have increased substantially in each of the last five years, and that the increases were far greater than for the industry as a whole, with 1959 sales up 31 and eight-tenth per cent for the largest year-to-year increase in the history of the firm. He holds the firm's aggressive newspaper advertising policy chiefly responsible for the consistent gains.

"Advertising has worked out at 6.6 per cent of sales in the last five years and we plan to spend an average of 7 per cent per annum for the next decade. This will be exactly double the men's clothing industry average of 3.5 per cent."

Cost of the expansion program is estimated at $24,000,000, including $12,000,000 for land and building, $6,000,000 for fixtures and equipment, and $6,000,000 for inventory. Sales presently about $5,000,000 are expected to increase to $50,000,000 within the decade.

All projected units are in Northern California, ranging from Fresno on the south to Sacramento on the north and are based on Grodins' management belief in intensive area development. Aver-
